Risks Related to our Company and our Industry

- 1. We depend on third parties to manufacture our products. If these organizations are unable or unwilling to manufacture our products, or if these organizations fail to comply with FDA or other applicable regulations or otherwise fail to meet our requirements, our business will be harmed.

We obtain all of our products from third parties. Generally, we do not have long-term contracts with our vendors committing them to supply products to us. If our vendors are unable to manufacture our products in sufficient quantities and on a consistent basis, or if it becomes unwilling to produce those equipment’s for us, we may not be able to supply our customers in a timely manner. For oximeter, thermometer, nebulizer, rehabilitation products and blood glucose monitoring device, we have a single-source finished goods vendor and do not have a long-term supply contract. Until recently, we purchased our products from few local vendors under our own brand name. Presently, we majorly outsource the manufacturing of our products to certain foreign vendors and as well as certain vendors in India under our own brand name. If we were to experience a supply disruption, it could take an extended period of time to find and qualify an alternate vendor. Further, the manufacturing facilities and processes used by our vendors must be approved by the FDA and their respective regulators, where applicable, before the healthcare products manufactured by such vendor can be sold. After approval, vendors must meet certain ongoing regulatory requirements for product testing and stability of our commercially marketed products. We do not control the manufacturing processes of our vendors and depend on them to comply with current good manufacturing practices (“CGMP”), and obtain and maintain regulatory approval. If approval for a vendor is not received or ongoing testing does not continue to meet approved standards and approval is withdrawn, the vendor’s production would be delayed or suspended, which could adversely affect our products commercialization efforts. In the event that any of our third-party vendors were to become unable or unwilling to continue to provide the products in our required volumes, we would need to identify and obtain acceptable replacement sources on a timely basis. However, our Company has, in the past, not faced instances of business disruption and the subsequent impact of such business disruption did not have a material adverse effect on the results of operations or financial of the Company, except due to COVID 19 pandemic wherein our operations declined beginning in April 2020. For details, please refer to “Risk Factor - Our business has been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and may continue to affect our business, results of operations and financial condition”. There is no guarantee that we would be able to obtain such alternative sources of supply on a timely basis, if at all. An extended interruption in the supply of our products, especially any high sales volume product, could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

Other risks associated with our reliance on third parties to manufacture these products include, reliance on the third party for regulatory compliance and quality assurance, misappropriation of the Company’s intellectual property, limited ability to manage our inventory. Moreover, if any of our third party manufacturers suffer any damage to facilities, lose benefits under material agreements, experience power outages, encounter financial difficulties, are unable to secure necessary raw materials from their suppliers or suffer any other reduction in efficiency, the Company may experience significant business disruption. In the event of any such disruption, the Company would need to seek and source other qualified third party manufacturers, likely resulting in further delays and increased costs which could affect our business adversely.

2. We depend heavily on our channel partners such as third party e-commerce players, distributors and retailers and failure to manage the distribution network efficiently will adversely affect our performance.

We are dependent on limited number of our channel partners such as third party e-commerce players, distributors and retailers for a substantial portion of our revenues. We are dependent on our channel partners for the distribution of our products and our ability to expand and grow our product reach significantly depends on the reach and effective management of our distribution network. We also utilise online marketplaces and e-commerce systems to increase our products market penetration and reach. A reduction in such limited number of our channel partners such as distributors and retailers or the loss of major distributors could result in a significant reduction in our revenue. Factors that may result in a loss of a client include service of our healthcare products, its performance, reduction in budgets due to macroeconomic factors or otherwise, shift in policies and political or economic factors or changes in their outsourcing strategies. We face significant competition in the health care products we provide to our channel partners such as third party e-commerce players, distributors and retailers and we are typically not an exclusive suppliers agreement to our large our channel partners such as third party e-commerce players, distributors and retailers. These factors may not be predictable or under our control. Significant pricing or margin pressure exerted by our channel partners such as third party e-commerce players, distributors and retailers could also adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. The quantum of healthcare devices we supply for our channel partners such as third party e-commerce players, distributors and retailers may vary from year to year. Thus, revenues generated from a particular our channel partners such as third party e-commerce players, distributors and retailers during a period may not be the same in any subsequent periods.

3. Our Promoter, members of the Promoter Group and some of our Directors have been subject to a ‘search and seizure’ operation by the income-tax department. Any adverse determination by the tax authorities in this matter could increase the tax liability and which may result in taxation and other proceedings against such individuals.

Search and seizure operations under section 132 of the Income Tax Act, 1961 / Section 37 A of the Wealth Tax Act, 1957 were conducted at residences of our Promoter Saurabh Goyal, members of the Promoter Group Aryan Goyal, Payal Goyal and Smita Goyal by officials from the income tax department from December 13, 2020 to December 15, 2020 in the case of Nectar Lifesciences Limited alongside Sanjiv Goyal, Raman Goyal, Aryan Goyal, Saurabh Goyal, Payal Goyal and Smita Goyal. Search and seizure operations were also conducted on residence of one of our Director Rajinder Sharma by officials from the income tax department on December 13, 2020 in the case of Nectar Lifesciences Limited and Avensis Exports Private Limited. During the course of the search and seizure operations, the income tax authorities impounded certain items such as cash, jewellery, ornaments and mobile set from the premises of such individuals. However, as on date of this Prospectus, none of the individuals have received further communication from the income tax authorities, there can be no assurance as to whether such individuals will receive any notice from the income tax authorities in relation to the aforementioned search and seizure operations. Our Promoter, Saurabh Goyal has disassociated himself from Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal pursuant to a family partition deed entered with Sanjiv Goyal along with his wife Raman Goyal on September 10, 2020. Further to the disassociation, Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal and any entity in which Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal may have an interest are not included in the Promoter Group of our Company. For further information, see “Our Promoter and Promoter Group” on page 143. Further, we had submitted an exemption application dated November 10, 2020 with SEBI seeking an exemption from identifying Nectar Life Sciences Limited as the ‘group companies’ of our Company, as our Promoter has disassociated with Nectar Life Sciences Limited pursuant to the Family Partition Deed dated September 10, 2020 and our Promoter, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel are not connected with Sanjiv Goyal and his wife Raman Goyal in any manner. Subsequently, such exemption was granted to us by SEBI vide its letter bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL1/YJ/KBOW/P/2021/1/582 dated January 11, 2021. Any adverse determination by the tax authorities in this matter could increase the tax liability and which may result in taxation and other proceedings against such individuals and may also affect the reputation of our Company. For details, please see section entitled “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 245.

4. We are dependent on the maintenance of existing product lines and service relationships, market acceptance of new product and service introductions and innovations for revenue and earnings growth.

The markets in which we operate are highly competitive in terms of pricing, product and service quality, product development and introduction time, customer service, financing terms and shifts in market demands, and competitors are increasingly offering services for our existing product portfolio. Our businesses are also subject to technological change and require us to continually attract and retain skilled talent. Our long-term operating results and competitive position depend substantially upon our ability to continually develop, introduce, and market new and innovative products, services and platforms, to modify existing products and services, to customize products and services, to anticipate and respond to market and technological changes driven by trends such as increased digitization or automation, or by developments that present both risks and opportunities for our businesses. A failure to be adequately market-based, or to accurately forecast customer demand and industry trends, may adversely affect our delivery of products, services and outcomes in line with our projected financial performance or cost estimates, and ultimately may result in excess costs, build-up of inventory that becomes obsolete, lower profit margins and an erosion of our competitive position.

The introduction of innovative and disruptive technologies in the markets in which we operate can also pose risks in the form of new competitors, substitutions of existing products, services or solutions, niche players, new business models and competitors that are faster to market with new products or services than we are. Our capacity to invest in research and development efforts to pursue advancement in a wide range of technologies, products and services depends on the financial resources that we have available for such investment relative to other capital allocation priorities, and under-investment could lead to the loss of market share for our products and services. The amounts that we do invest in research and development divert resources from other potential investments in our businesses, and our efforts may not lead to the development of new technologies or products on a timely basis or meet the needs of our customers as fully as competitive offerings.

5. We have experienced negative cash flows, and may continue to do so in the future, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

6. Certain unsecured loans have been availed by our Company which may be recalled by lenders at any time.

The unsecured loans taken by our Company may be recalled by the respective lenders at any time. Any failure to service such indebtedness, or otherwise perform any obligations under such financing agreements may lead to a termination of one or more of our credit facilities or incur penalties and acceleration of payments under such credit facilities, which may adversely affect our Company. For further information with respect to the unsecured loans availed by our Company, see “Financial Indebtedness” and “Management Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Result of Operations – Financial Indebtedness” on page 209 and 210, respectively.

There is no assurance that our auditors’ reports for any future fiscal periods will not contain qualifications or emphasis of matters or that such emphasis of matters will not require any adjustment in our financial statements for such future periods or otherwise affect our results of operations and financial condition in such future fiscal periods.

We intend to use the Net Proceeds for the purposes described in “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 68. Our funding requirements are based on internal management estimates and our current business plans and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. This is based on current conditions and is subject to change in light of changes in external circumstances, costs, other financial condition or business strategies. We have relied on past expenditure in estimating utilisation of the Net Proceeds for our incremental working capital requirements. As a consequence of any increased costs, our actual deployment of funds may be higher than our management estimates and may cause additional burden on our finance plans, as a result of which, our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be materially and adversely impacted. The deployment of the Net Proceeds will be at the discretion of our Board. Furthermore, in the absence of independent appraisal, or the requirement for us to appoint a monitoring agency in terms of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, we may have to reconsider our estimates or business plans due to changes in underlying factors, some of which are beyond our control. We may have to revise our expenditure and funding requirements as a result of fluctuations in exchange rates, variations in costs, estimates, quotations or other external factors, which may not be within the control of our management.

Accordingly, prospective investors in the Issue will need to rely upon our management's judgment with respect to the use of proceeds. If we are unable to deploy the proceeds of the Issue in a timely or an efficient manner, it may affect our business and results of operations.

Furthermore, we may need to vary the objects of the Issue due to several factors or circumstances including competitive and dynamic market conditions, variation in cost structures, changes in estimates due to delays, which may be beyond our control. Pursuant to Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, any variation in the objects of the Issue would require a special resolution of our shareholders, and our Promoter will be required to provide an exit opportunity to our shareholders who do not agree to such variation. If our shareholders exercise such an exit option, our share price may be adversely affected.

9. If we are unable to implement our marketing strategy in a cost-effective timely manner or at all, then our business, results of operations and financial condition would be adversely affected.

In order to grow our business, we must continue to attract new clients in a cost-effective manner. We use a variety of marketing channels to promote our products and services. If the costs of the marketing channels we use increase dramatically, then we may choose to use alternative and less expensive channels, which may not be as effective as the channels we currently use. As we add to or change the mix of our marketing strategies, we may need to expand into more expensive channels than those we are currently in, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. We will incur marketing expenses before we are able to recognize any revenue that the marketing initiatives may generate, and these expenses may not result in increased revenue or brand awareness. Our Company undertakes numerous marketing initiatives to promote its brand image through brand-awareness campaigns, social media and partnering with celebrities to serve as brand ambassadors. Further, our Company intends to continue to enhance the brand recall of its products through use of digital and television advertisements and advertisement on e-commerce platforms, as well as marketing through traditional channels such as outdoor advertising for its product. During the six months period ended September 30, 2020 and Fiscal 2020, 2019 and 2018 our advertising expenses were ₹20.13 million, ₹31.31 million, ₹23.12 million and ₹2.49 million, respectively. If we are unable to maintain effective marketing programs, then our ability to attract new clients could be adversely affected, our advertising and marketing expenses could increase substantially and our results of operations may be adversely affected.

10. We may not be able to correctly assess the demand for our products, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Manufacturing and distribution processes of our healthcare devices require us to anticipate the demand for our products based on the feedback received from our own marketing personnel, distributors and partners. Accurate assessment of market demand requires significant investment in our sales and marketing network and training of marketing personnel. There is no guarantee that our estimate of market demand in India or foreign countries in which we sell our products will be accurate. In the event that we overestimate the demand for our products, we may have expended resources in manufacturing excess products and paid taxes, insurance costs, distribution expenses, storage and warehousing and other related expenditures. In the event of excess production, we might have to bear the cost of destruction of these goods. In the event that we underestimate the market demand or fail to order a sufficient volume of supplies and input materials from our third-party vendors, we may be unable to meet customer demand and lose out on sales opportunities that our competitors may capitalise on. Similarly, if we fail to manage investment levels appropriately, we may be unable to meet demand, which could lead to a loss of interest and sales in our products. Failure to meet customer demand may also occur because constant supply from our third party manufacturers in time bound manner, or we have an inaccurate level of inventory holding. Accordingly, any incorrect assessment of the demand for our products may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

11. We have significant working capital requirements for a continuing growth. Our inability to meet our working capital requirements may adversely affect our results of operations.

Our business requires a substantial amount of working capital, primarily to finance our inventory. Moreover, we may need working capital for the expansion of our business. As per our settled business terms, we require to pay to our vendors the part amount of consideration at the time of placing the order and part the amount of consideration after the delivery of our consignment, as a result, significant amounts of our working capital are often required to finance the purchase of our products from our vendors. Majority of our working capital requirements in the ordinary course of our business are met from our internal accruals and equity. Further, we are also required to meet the increasing demand and for achieving the same, adequate stocks have to be maintained which requires sufficient working capital. Total income of our Company increased by 208.85% from ₹200.69 million in Fiscal 2018 to ₹619.83 million during the Fiscal 2019. Further, the total income of our Company increased by 60.51% from ₹619.83 million in Fiscal 2019 to ₹994.87 million during the Fiscal 2020. The revenue from operations has grown at a CAGR of 122.68% during Fiscal 2018 to 2020. Our Company is expected to continue the growth trajectory going forward and is on track to achieve the projections for Fiscal 2021. The working capital utilised for Fiscal 2020 is ₹236.00 million. Further, while disclosing the existing working capital requirements for basis of estimation of working capital, we have considered the audited financial statements for Fiscal 2020, since the audited financial statements for Fiscal 2020 and for Fiscal 2019 were not comparable due to the Scheme of Arrangement. For further details, see “Objects of the Issue – Funding incremental working capital requirements of the Company” on page 69. Also see, “History and Certain Corporate Matter - Details regarding material acquisitions or divestments of business/ undertakings, mergers, amalgamation, any revaluation of assets in the last ten years - Scheme of Arrangement under Section 230 to 232 of the Companies Act” on page 123 for further details of the Scheme of Arrangement. In these times where the world is facing a health crisis due to the ongoing pandemic, the home healthcare industry is expecting an increase in demand which would directly increase the demand of our products due to their usage. In the event, we are unable to source the required amount of working capital for addressing such increased demand of our products, we might not be able to efficiently satisfy the demand of our customers. Even if we are able to source the required amount of funds, we cannot assure you that such funds would be sufficient to meet our cost estimates and that any increase in the expenses will not affect the price of our products. Any delay or default in processing our payments to our vendors in timely manner for the products, which they have manufactured on our behalf, our vendors shall choose to terminate their arrangements with our Company. Further, if we decide to raise additional funds through the incurrence of debt, our interest and debt repayment obligations will increase, and could have a significant effect on our profitability and cash flows and we may be subject to additional covenants, which could limit our ability to access cash flows from operations. Any issuance of equity, on the other hand, could result in a dilution of your shareholding. Accordingly, continued increases in our working capital requirements may have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our inability to obtain or maintain sufficient cash flow, credit facilities and other sources of funding, in a timely manner, or at all, to meet our working capital requirements or to pay our debts, could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

12. We have a limited operating and financial history, which makes it difficult to accurately assess our future growth prospects.

Our Company was incorporated on November 2, 2016 and commenced operations in Fiscal 2017. For further information, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters” on page 120. Consequently, our financial statements, including the details of our profit and loss account, as set out in the section “Financial Statements” on page 155, are available only from Fiscal 2018. As such, we have a very limited operating history, and our success is dependent on our ability to effectively implement our businesses. Our limited financial and operating history may not provide an accurate basis for investors to understand our business and financial history for comparative analysis and evaluate our future business and financial prospects. Further, until Fiscal 2019, our Company did not have any subsidiaries, and no consolidated financial statements were prepared. Therefore, our Restated Consolidated Financial Information relating to such fiscal periods are not comparable to each other. Assessing the future prospects of our business is challenging in light of both known and unknown risks and difficulties we may encounter, and could place significant demands on the management team and our other resources. We will be subject to all the business risks and uncertainties associated with setting up any new business venture, which may adversely affect our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

13. If we are unable to obtain, maintain and enforce intellectual property protection for our technology and solutions, others may be able to develop and commercialize technology and solutions substantially similar to ours, and our ability to successfully commercialize our technology and solutions may be compromised.

Our business depends on proprietary technology and content, including software, processes, databases, confidential information and know-how, the protection of which is crucial to the success of our business. While, we have received 66 trademark, 6 copyrights and 92 designs registrations and applied for 12 trademark registrations, we primarily rely on a combination of trademark, trade-secret and copyright laws, confidentiality procedures, cyber security practices and contractual provisions to protect the intellectual property rights of our proprietary technology and content. We may, over time, increase our investment in protecting our intellectual property through additional trademark, copyright and other intellectual property filings, which could be expensive and time-consuming. We may not be able to obtain protection for our trademarks, copyrights, designs and other intellectual property and even if we are successful in obtaining effective trademark, copyright and design protection, it is expensive to maintain these rights and the costs of defending our rights could be substantial. Moreover, our failure to develop and properly manage new intellectual property could hurt our market position and business opportunities. With respect to the trademarks that have been applied for and/or objected or opposed, our Company may not be able to prevent infringement of its trademarks and a passing off action may not provide sufficient protection until such time that these registrations are granted and it is possible that third parties may copy or otherwise infringe on the rights of our Company, which may have an adverse effect on its business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. In the event that there is an adverse claim or judgment passed against our Company in the future in relation to the trademarks, our Company may be unable to use the brand name or derive the benefits associated with the goodwill of the brand name, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. For further details on our trademark, copyright and design registrations, please see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 250.

In addition, these measures may not be sufficient to offer us meaningful protection or provide us with any competitive advantages. If we are unable to adequately protect our intellectual property and other proprietary rights, our competitive position and our business could be harmed, as third parties may be able to commercialize and use technologies and software solutions that are substantially the same as ours to compete with us without incurring the development and licensing costs that we have incurred. Any of our owned or licensed intellectual property rights could be challenged, invalidated, circumvented, infringed, misappropriated or violated, our trade secrets and other confidential information could be disclosed in an unauthorized manner to third parties, or our intellectual property rights may not be sufficient to permit us to take advantage of current market trends or to otherwise provide us with competitive advantages, which could result in costly redesign efforts, business disruptions, discontinuance of some of our offerings or other competitive harm.

14. Our products and services are highly sophisticated and specialized, and a major product failure or similar event could adversely affect our business, reputation, financial position and results of operations.

We produce highly sophisticated products and provide specialized services for both our and third-party products that incorporate or use complex or leading-edge technology, including both hardware and software. Many of our products and services involve complex industrial machinery, and accordingly the impact of a product failure or similar event could be significant. For further details of our products portfolio, see “Our Business – Our Products Portfolio” on page 108. In particular, actual or perceived design or production issues related to new product introductions or relatively new product lines can result in significant reputational harm to our businesses, in addition to direct warranty, maintenance and other costs that may arise, and a more significant product issue resulting in widespread outages, a fleet grounding or similar systemic consequences could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position and results of operations. However, our Company, in the past, has not faced instances of operational failure or product failure, and hence there is no subsequent impact of such operational failure or product failure on the results of operations or financial condition of our Company.

While we have built operational processes to ensure that our product design, manufacture, performance and servicing meet rigorous quality standards, there can be no assurance that we or our customers or other third parties will not experience operational failure or product failures and other problems, including through manufacturing or design defects, process or other failures of contractors or third-party vendors, that could result in potential product, safety, regulatory or environmental risks.

15. If we are unable to maintain and enhance our brand or fail to cost-effectively develop widespread brand awareness and maintain our reputation, or if we fail to achieve and maintain market acceptance for our healthcare services or any negative publicity, our business could suffer.

We believe that the recognition and reputation of our “Dr. Trust” brand, “Dr. Physio” brand and “Trumom” brand identities and increasing the market awareness about us. We believe that developing and maintaining widespread awareness of our brand and maintaining our reputation for providing access to high quality and efficient health care in a cost-effective manner is critical to attracting new customers and enterprise clients and maintaining existing customers. Our business and revenue are heavily reliant on growing and maintaining our customer base.

Many factors, some of which are beyond our control, are important to maintaining and enhancing our brand. These factors include our ability to:

- maintain the popularity, attractiveness and quality of the products we offer;
- maintain or improve consumers’ satisfaction with our products; and
- increase brand awareness through investment in brand building initiatives, including through education programs and marketing activities.

Our consumers that use and recommend our products have come to expect a high level of efficacy and quality from our products, and our failure to deliver on that expectation could adversely impact our brand and reputation. In particular, from time to time we plan on launching new healthcare products, in both our existing and in new complementary categories, and if any of those services or products does not meet our standards for quality and performance or consumers’ subjective expectations, our brand reputation and the sales of our existing products may also be impacted.

In addition, we have a growing number of strategic relationships with health systems and health plans, or collectively, health networks. Market acceptance of our solutions and services and member acquisition depends on educating people, as well as enterprise clients and health networks, as to the distinct features, ease-of-use, positive lifestyle impact, cost savings, quality, and other perceived benefits of our solutions and services as compared to alternative avenues for health care. In particular, market acceptance is highly dependent on our ability to sufficiently saturate a particular geographic area with medical offices to provide services to local customers.

The level of saturation required depends on the needs of the local market and the healthcare preferences of the customers in that market, among other things. Further, we rely on word of mouth to spread awareness of our solutions and services, which in turn is dependent on members relaying positive experiences with our solutions, services and providers. If we are not successful in demonstrating to existing and potential customers and enterprise clients the benefits of our solutions and services, if we are not able to sufficiently saturate a market with medical offices in convenient locations for members, or if we are not able to achieve the support of enterprise clients, health networks, healthcare providers and insurance carriers for our solutions and services, we could experience lower than expected sales of new customers. Further, the loss or dissatisfaction of any customers may substantially harm our brand and reputation, inhibit widespread adoption of our solutions and services, reduce our revenue from enterprise clients and health networks, and impair our ability to attract new customers and maintain existing customers. Product quality issues, real or imagined, or allegations of product defects, even when false or unfounded, could tarnish the image of the affected brands and may cause consumers to choose other products. Many factors, some of which are beyond our control, are important to maintaining and enhancing our brands, including maintaining or improving consumer satisfaction and the popularity of our products and increasing brand awareness through various brand building initiatives such as advertising media, including digital marketing, advertisement on e-commerce platform, social media, print and electronic media. Any negative publicity regarding us, our brands or our products, including those arising from concerns regarding quality, or any other event affecting product or service quality or otherwise, could adversely affect our reputation, results of operations and financial condition.

The promotion of our brand also requires us to make substantial expenditures, and we anticipate that these expenditures will increase as our market becomes more competitive and as we expand into new markets. To the extent that these activities increase revenue, this revenue still may not be enough to offset the increased expenses we incur. If we do not successfully maintain and enhance our brand, then our business may not grow, we may see our pricing power reduced relative to competitors and we may lose clients, all of which would adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

16. The availability of look-alikes, counterfeit healthcare devices, primarily in our domestic market, manufactured by other companies and passed off as our products, could adversely affect our goodwill and results of operations.

We are exposed to the risk that entities in India and elsewhere could pass off their products as ours by imitating our brand name, packaging material and attempting to create counterfeit healthcare devices, including spurious or pirated products. For example, certain entities could imitate our brand name, packaging material or attempt to create lookalike products. Similarly, we may be unable to protect our trade secrets, including product specifications, which if obtained by counterfeiters, could be used to create products that are substantially similar to ours. This would not only reduce our market share due to replacement of demand for our products, whereby we may not be able to recover our initial development costs or experience loss in revenues but could also harm the reputation of our brands. The measures we take to protect our brands and other intellectual property include relying on Indian laws and initiating legal proceedings, may not be adequate to prevent unauthorised use of them by third parties. During the past three years prior to the date of this Prospectus, there have been incidents of counterfeit products. For instance, our Company has encountered incidences of counterfeit goods, where our Company has issued legal notices in relation to selling of counterfeit products by the third parties. However, our Company has not lodge any first information report or police complaint against such instances and there were no significant impact of such proliferation of unauthorized copies of the products of our Company on its reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations. Detecting and protecting against the unauthorised use of our products, technology and proprietary rights is expensive, difficult and, in some cases, impossible. The proliferation of unauthorized copies of our products, and the time lost in defending claims and complaints about spurious products could decrease the revenue we receive from our products and have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

17. We may fail to invest in our brand efficiently or conduct our marketing activities effectively.

We incur significant expenses on a variety of different brand investment and marketing efforts designed to expand our brand recognition. We also aim to increase sales of our products, ranging from print and electronic advertising as well as digital advertising and social media outreach, respectively. Our brand investment and marketing activities may not be effective with customers and may not result in the levels of sales that we anticipate. In addition, short term adjustments in our level of brand investment may have a long term impact on our brand reputation and ultimately, our results of operations.

While brand investment is a key component of reinforcing the relevance of our brand, we view brand investment as a discretionary expenditure and may vary the level of brand investment from time to time. Our core approach to marketing is an influence and advocacy model that relies on word of mouth as well as endorsement from professionals, brand ambassadors and our customers. Failure to allocate appropriate resources to brand investment, to refine our existing marketing approach or to introduce new marketing approaches or use new and emerging marketing channels in an effective manner could reduce our market share, cause our revenue to decline and negatively impact our profitability. Additionally, if our competitors increase their spending on marketing and promotions, our marketing or promotions could become less effective than those of our competitors, and we could experience a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

18. We face intense competition and may not be able to keep pace with the rapid technological changes in the health product devices industry.

The home healthcare market is intensely competitive and is characterized by extensive research and development and rapid technological change. Our customers consider many factors when choosing suppliers, including product reliability, clinical outcomes, breadth of product portfolio, price and product services provided by the manufacturer, product availability and market share can shift as a result of technological innovation and other business factors. Major shifts in industry market share have occurred in connection with product problems, physician advisories and safety alerts, reflecting the importance of product quality in the medical health product industry, and any quality problems with our processes, goods and services could harm our reputation for producing high-quality products and erode our competitive advantage, sales and market share. Our competitors range from small start-up companies to larger companies which have significantly greater resources and broader product offerings than us.

In addition, we expect that competition will continue to intensify with increasing price competition as a result of managed care, consolidation among healthcare providers, increased competition. Product introductions or enhancements by competitors which have advanced technology, better features or lower pricing may make our products or proposed products obsolete or less competitive. As a result, we will be required to devote continued efforts and financial resources to bring our products under development to market, enhance our existing products and develop new products for the medical marketplace. If we fail to develop new products, enhance existing products or compete effectively, our business, financial condition and results of operations will be adversely affected.

19. We are subject to stringent domestic and foreign applicable regulation and any adverse regulatory action may materially adversely affect our financial condition and business operations.

We are subject to rigorous regulation by the FDA and numerous other state and central governmental authorities. To varying degrees, each of these authorities monitors and enforces our compliance with laws and regulations governing the development, testing, clinical study, manufacturing, labelling, packaging, marketing and distribution of our healthcare devices. These laws and regulations are subject to change and to evolving interpretations which could increase costs, prevent or delay future device clearance or approvals, or otherwise adversely affect our ability to market currently cleared or approved devices. The process of obtaining marketing approval or clearance from the FDA, state and central bodies for new products, or for enhancements or modifications to existing products, could:

- take a significant amount of time;
- require the expenditure of substantial resources;
- involve rigorous pre-clinical and clinical testing, as well as increased post-market surveillance;
- involve modifications, repairs or replacements of our products; and
- result in limitations on the indicated uses of our products.

We cannot be certain that new healthcare devices or new uses for existing healthcare devices will be cleared or approved by the FDA or state and central regulatory agencies in a timely or cost-effective manner, if cleared or approved at all. In addition, the FDA may require post-market testing and surveillance and may, depending on the results, prevent or limit further marketing of products. The failure to receive approval or clearance for significant new products or modifications to existing products or the receipt of an approval of limited or reduced scope could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

20. We rely on third-party transportation providers for procurement of healthcare devices and for supply of our products and failure by any of our transportation providers could result in loss in sales.

We depend on road transportation to deliver our finished products to our channel partners such as distributors and retailers. We rely exclusively on commercial vehicles and third-party transportation providers for procuring healthcare devices as well as for distributing our products to our channel partners such as distributors and retailers. This makes us dependent on various intermediaries such as domestic logistics companies and container freight station operators. We cannot guarantee that there will not be any delay in transportation and delivery of our products to our channel partners such as distributors and retailers. Weather-related problems, strikes, or other events could impair our ability to procure healthcare devices from third party manufactures which may in turn delay the process supplying our products to our channel partners such as distributors and retailers, and this could adversely affect the performance of our business, results of operations and cash flows.

Further, our third-party transportation providers do not carry any insurance coverage and therefore, any losses that may arise during the transportation process will have to be claimed under the Company's insurance policy. There can be no assurance that we will receive compensation for any such claims in a timely manner or at all, and consequently, any such loss may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

21. Our business has been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and may continue to affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

In December 2019, the first case of a novel strain of coronavirus, COVID-19, was identified in the People's Republic of China (China). The pandemic has since spread worldwide and there have been increased initial infection and fatality rates across the world. On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization declared the COVID-19 outbreak a pandemic. In order to contain the spread of the infection, in India, the Government of India initially announced a 21-day countrywide lockdown starting on March 25, 2020, which was subject to successive extensions since then. The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted our business, financial condition and results of operations. For example, manufacturing activities of our vendors and commercial activities of our distribution channels were substantially shut down for a certain period, as we sought to comply with local regulations. Our operations declined beginning in April 2020 but began to normalize in May and June 2020 as the lock-down was eased. Furthermore, some of our vendors were shut down due to lock down, which affected their ability to provide us with the products.

While India has eased certain lockdown measures, the trajectory of the eventual outcome remains uncertain and contingent on the future path of the viral outbreak and the effectiveness of measures to counter it. Going forward, the COVID-19 pandemic may affect our business, results of operations and financial condition in a number of ways, such as:

- a. result in a complete or partial closure of, or disruptions or restrictions on our ability to conduct, our operations and distribution activities, resulting from government action;
- b. delay in shipment of our products;
- c. affect our ability to source our products as a result of the temporary or permanent closure of the facilities of our vendors; and
- d. affect the availability of employees, which could result in a slowdown in our operations.

Given the uncertainties regarding the continued spread of COVID-19 pandemic, it is difficult to predict the future economic effect of the virus on the global economy, or to what extent our business will be affected. We cannot assure you that, for example, further outbreak will not result in our vendors experiencing liquidity or other issues that affects their ability to provide us with healthcare products, or materially fewer sales due to unfavourable circumstances or the reason mentioned above. Any material changes in the financial markets, the global economy or regional economies as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition or results of operations.

22. Product liability and other civil claims and costs incurred as a result of product recalls could have a material adverse effect on our business.

Due to the nature of our business, we face an inherent business risk of exposure to product liability or malfunctioning or recall claims in the event that our products fail to perform as expected or any such failure results, or is alleged to result, in bodily injury or property damage or both. Any actual or alleged contamination or deterioration or malfunctioning of our products, whether deliberate or accidental, could result in legal liability, damage to our reputation and may adversely affect our business prospects and consequently our financial performance. The risk of contamination or deterioration or malfunctioning exists at each stage including during storage, packaging and delivery to our customers for final use/ consumption by consumers. While we follow stringent quality control processes and quality standards, there can be no assurance that our products will not be malfunctioned contaminated or suffer deterioration.

As a result of product liability legislation, civil claims may be brought against us. Should any new developments arise, such as a change in Indian law or rulings against us by appellate courts or tribunals, we may need to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our current liabilities. We cannot assure you that we will not experience any material product liability losses in the future or that we will not incur significant costs to defend any such claims, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

23. We depend on our senior management team, and the loss of one or more of our executive officers or key employees or an inability to attract and retain highly skilled employees could harm our business.

Our success depends largely upon the continued services of our key executive officers, particularly our Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer. Further, we rely on our leadership team in the areas of sales and marketing, legal, finance and accounting, services and general and administrative functions. From time to time, there may be changes in our executive management team resulting from the hiring or departure of executives, which could disrupt our business. The replacement of one or more of our executive officers or other key employees would likely involve significant time and costs and may significantly delay or prevent the achievement of our business objectives.

To continue to execute our growth strategy, we also must attract and retain highly skilled personnel. Competition is intense for qualified professionals. We may not be successful in continuing to attract and retain qualified personnel. We have from time to time in the past experienced, and we expect to continue to experience in the future, difficulty in hiring and retaining highly skilled personnel with appropriate qualifications. The pool of qualified personnel with experience working in the healthcare market is limited overall. In addition, many of the companies with which we compete for experienced personnel have greater resources than we have.

24. Significant challenges or delays in our Company's innovation and development of new products, technologies and indications could have an adverse impact on the Company's long-term success.

Our Company's continued growth and success depends on its ability to innovate and develop new and differentiated products and services that address the evolving health care needs of patients, providers and consumers. Development of successful products and technologies is also necessary to offset revenue losses when the Company's existing products lose market share due to various factors such as competition and loss of intellectual property rights. Our Company cannot be certain when or whether it will be able to develop, license or otherwise acquire companies, products and technologies, whether particular product candidates will be granted regulatory approval, and, if approved, whether the products will be commercially successful.

In all of these contexts, developing new products and healthcare devices, requires significant investment of resources over many years. The process depends on many factors including the ability to discern patients' and health care providers' future needs; develop promising new compounds, strategies and technologies; achieve successful clinical trial results; secure effective intellectual property protection; obtain regulatory approvals on a timely basis; and, if and when they reach the market, successfully differentiate the Company's products from competing products and approaches to treatment. New products or enhancements to existing products may not be accepted quickly or significantly in the marketplace due to product and price competition, changes in customer preferences or purchasing patterns, resistance by healthcare providers or uncertainty over third-party reimbursement. Even following initial regulatory approval, the success of a product can be adversely impacted by safety and efficacy findings in larger real world patient populations, as well as market entry of competitive products.

25. If we are unable to collect our dues and receivables from our clients, our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected.

We extend credit to certain of our distributors and retailers. Consequently, we are exposed to the risk of the uncertainty regarding the receipt of these outstanding amounts. As a result of such industry conditions, we have and may continue to have relatively high levels of outstanding receivables and there may be an impact on our cash flow statement. Our trade receivables for Fiscal 2018, 2019 and 2020 were ₹ 16.86 million, ₹ 88.56 million and ₹ 128.97 million respectively and as of September 30, 2020, were ₹ 40.08 million on a consolidated basis. Our average debtor cycle was 31 days, 53 days, 47 days and 6 days in Fiscal 2018, 2019 and 2020 and in the six months period ended September 30, 2020, respectively. If a significant portion of our retailers or distributors default in making these payments our profits margins could be adversely affected. Our financial position and profitability therefore depend on the credit-worthiness of our distributors and retailers.

Certain of these distributors and retailers may have weak credit histories and we cannot assure that these counterparties will always be able to pay us in a timely fashion, if at all. Any change in the financial condition of these counterparties that adversely affects their ability to pay us may materially adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. There is no guarantee that we will be able to accurately assess the creditworthiness of our clients. Macroeconomic conditions, such as a potential credit crisis in the global financial system, could also result in financial difficulties for our clients, including limited access to the credit markets, insolvency or bankruptcy. Such conditions could cause clients to delay payment, request modifications of their payment terms, or default on their payment obligations to us, all of which could increase our receivables. Further, we cannot assure you that in the future we will not extend credit to our customers and distributors.

26. We face foreign exchange risks that could adversely affect our results of operations and cash flows.

While a substantial portion of our revenues is, and we expect in future will be, denominated in Rupees, we are exposed to foreign exchange rate risk on imported components and products supplied by our vendors based out of India and revenue from sales in our international markets, which is mostly denominated in U.S. Dollars. We report our financial results in Indian Rupees, while portions of our total income and expenses are denominated, generated or incurred in currencies other than Indian Rupees such as the U.S. Dollar. Our total expenses in Fiscal 2018, 2019 and 2020, and in the six months period ended September 30, 2020 amounted to ₹ 157.46 million, ₹ 531.42 million, ₹ 908.79 million and ₹ 743.28 million, respectively. The exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies has fluctuated significantly in recent years and may continue to fluctuate in the future. Any significant appreciation of the Indian Rupee against foreign currencies in which we do business can fundamentally affect our competitiveness in the long term. As our Restated Consolidated Financial Information are presented in Indian Rupees, any depreciation of the Rupee against the US Dollar will significantly increase the Rupee cost to us of servicing and repaying our foreign currency payables, which in turn could impact our results of operations.

27. Our inability to manage growth could disrupt our business and reduce our profitability.

A principal component of our strategy is to continue to grow by expanding the size and geographical scope of our existing businesses, as well as the development of new businesses. This growth strategy will place significant demands on our management, financial and other resources. It will require us to continuously develop and improve our operational, financial and internal controls. Continuous expansion increases the challenges involved in financial management, recruitment, training and retaining high quality human resources, preserving our culture, values and entrepreneurial environment, and developing and improving our internal administrative infrastructure. Any inability on our part to manage such growth could disrupt our business prospects, impact our financial condition and adversely affect our results of operations.

28. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage, or accurately report, our financial risks.

Effective internal controls are necessary for us to prepare reliable financial reports and effectively avoid fraud. Moreover, any internal controls that we may implement, or our level of compliance with such controls, may deteriorate over time, due to evolving business conditions. We cannot assure you that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls. Any inability on our part to adequately detect, rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls may adversely affect our ability to accurately report, or successfully manage, our financial risks, and to avoid fraud, which may in turn adversely affect our business, financial condition or results of operations.

29. Our inability to obtain, renew or maintain our statutory and regulatory permits and approvals required to operate our business may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We will be required to renew permits and approvals in relation to our existing operations and obtain new permits and approvals for any proposed operations as may be required under the applicable laws of the sector or region that we are operating in. There can be no assurance that relevant authorities will renew or issue any of such permits or approvals in the time-frame anticipated by us or at all. Our failure to renew, maintain or obtain the required permits or approvals may result in the interruption of our operations and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Compliance with many of the regulations applicable to our operations may involve incurring significant costs and otherwise may impose restrictions on our operations. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any adverse regulatory action in the future. If the interpretation of the regulators and authorities varies from our interpretation, we may be subject to penalties and the business of our Company could be adversely affected. If we fail to obtain or retain any of these approvals or licenses, or renewals thereof, in a timely manner, or at all, our business may be adversely affected. If we fail to comply, or a regulator claims we have not complied, with any of the terms and conditions stipulated under any of our licenses or permits, one or several of our licenses and certificates may be suspended or cancelled and we shall not be able to carry on the activities permitted thereunder. For further information, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 250.

30. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to cover all losses or liabilities that we may incur in our business and operations.

Our operations are subject to various risks inherent in manufacturing and distribution of healthcare device industry as well as fire, theft, earthquake, flood, acts of terrorism and other events beyond our control. We maintain insurance policies customary for our industry to cover certain risks, including standard fire and special perils, burglary, marine insurance policy. Our Company’s insurance cover as on the date of September 30, 2020 is approximately ₹ 2,382.50 million (excluding directors and officers liability insurance) in respect of its total assets which stood at ₹ 1,024.88 million as of September 30, 2020. Consequently, our Company’s insurance cover as a percentage of total assets as of September 30, 2020 was approximately 232.46%. For further information, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 103.

Notwithstanding the insurance coverage that we carry, the occurrence of an event that causes losses in excess of the limits specified in our policies, or losses arising from events not covered by insurance policies, could harm our financial condition, business and future results of operations. We cannot provide any assurance that our insurance will be sufficient or effective under all circumstances and against all risks to which we may be subject. However, in some cases, we may not have obtained the required insurance coverage or such insurance policies may have lapsed. For instance, we currently do not maintain any insurance against cyber-crime, corporate general liability or key-man insurance. In addition, our insurance policies may not continue to be available on reasonable terms, at economically acceptable premiums, or at all. There can be no assurance that any claims filed will be honoured fully or timely under our insurance policies. Also, our financial condition may be affected to the extent we suffer any loss or damage that is not covered by insurance or which exceeds our insurance coverage.

31. Certain premises, including our Registered Office, Corporate Office, manufacturing facility and warehouses are not owned by us and we have only leasehold or leave and license rights over them. In the event we lose such rights, our business, financial condition and results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected.

Certain premises used by our Company have been obtained on a lease and sub-lease basis, including our Registered Office, Corporate Office, manufacturing facility and warehouses. Our Company has recently started the manufacturing facility pursuant to the registration and license to work a factory issued by Chief Inspector of Factories, Union Territory, Chandigarh under the Factories Act, 1948 on July 28, 2020. Further, our Company has our manufacturing facility located in Chandigarh have been obtained on leasehold basis from Raman Goyal, mother of Saurabh Goyal our individual Promoter. Our Promoter has disassociated himself from his parents Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal pursuant to a family partition deed entered with Sanjiv Goyal along with his wife Raman Goyal on September 10, 2020. For further details with respect family partition deed, see “Our Promoter and Promoter Group” on page 143. We cannot assure you that we will be able to renew our lease or sub-lease agreements or enter into new agreements in the future, on terms favourable to us, or at all. In the event that any lease or sub-lease agreement is not renewed, we will be required to expend time and financial resources to locate suitable land or building to set up our operations. Also, we may be unable to relocate to an appropriate location in a timely manner, or at all, and we cannot assure you that a relocated office will be as commercially viable.

If a lease agreement or the sub lease agreement is terminated, prior to its tenure or if it is not renewed, or if we are required to cease business operations at a property, for any reason whatsoever, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected. Further, if the vacated property is leased or sold to a competitor, we may also face increased competition in that geographic area, which could adversely affect our market share. For further information on our properties, see “Our Business – Properties” on page 103.

32. We have entered into, and will continue to enter into, related party transactions. There is no assurance that our future related party transactions would be on terms favourable to us when compared to similar transactions with unrelated or third parties.

We have entered into and may, in the course of our business, continue to enter into transactions with related parties including our Promoter and members of the Promoter Group, Subsidiaries and Group Companies in the future. Primarily these transactions include revenue from operation, purchases of stock in trade, borrowings taken and repaid, advances received against supply of goods and remuneration to Directors and Key Managerial Personnel's. For further information on our related party transactions, see "Financial Information - Related Party Transactions" on page 155. While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on an arm length's basis and in the ordinary course of business, there can be no assurance that we could not have achieved more favourable commercial terms with other parties. Further, it is likely that we may enter into related party transactions in the future and such transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest. In terms of the Companies Act, 2013 and SEBI Listing Regulations, we are required to adhere to various compliance requirements such as obtaining prior approvals from our Audit Committee, Board and Shareholders for certain related party transactions and our Company undertakes that such related party transactions shall not be done against the interests of the Company and its minority Shareholders as prescribed in the SEBI Listing Regulations. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

33. We rely extensively on our operational support systems, including on our information technology systems in managing our supply chain, procurement process, logistics and other integral parts of our business, failure of which could adversely affect our business, financial conditions and results of operations.

The importance of information technology systems to our business is paramount. We are reliant on our information technology systems in connection with order booking, procurement of healthcare devices, accounting, production and distribution. Furthermore, these systems are potentially vulnerable to damage or interruption from a variety of sources, which could result in a material adverse effect on our operations. Disruption or failure of our IT systems could have a material adverse effect on our operations. A large-scale IT malfunction could disrupt our business or lead to disclosure of sensitive company information. Our ability to keep our business operating depends on the proper and efficient operation and functioning of various IT systems, which are susceptible to malfunctions and interruptions (including those due to equipment damage, power outages, computer viruses and a range of other hardware, software and network problems). A significant or large-scale malfunction or interruption of one or more of our IT systems could adversely affect our ability to keep our operations running efficiently and affect product availability, particularly in the country, region or functional area in which the malfunction occurs, and wider or sustained disruption to our business cannot be excluded. In addition, it is possible that a malfunction of our data system security measures could enable unauthorized persons to access sensitive business data, including information relating to our intellectual property or business strategy. Such malfunction or disruptions could cause economic losses. Any failure in our information technology systems could result in business interruption, adversely impacting our reputation and weakening of our competitive position and could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

34. Our Subsidiaries may have conflicts of interest as they are engaged in similar business and may compete with us.

Our Subsidiaries are authorized to engage in businesses similar to our business operations. For further information of such Subsidiaries, see section titled "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Our Subsidiaries" on page 120. As a result, there may be conflicts of interest in allocating business opportunities between us and other Subsidiaries. Further, there also may be conflicts of interest between our Subsidiaries and us in pursuing our existing line of business. We have not entered into any non-compete agreements with our Subsidiaries. There can be no assurance that our Subsidiaries will not compete with our existing business or any future business that we may undertake or that we will be able to suitably resolve such a conflict without an adverse effect on our business. Any such present and future conflicts could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial performance.

35. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and working capital and capital expenditure requirements.

Any dividends to be declared and paid in the future are required to be recommended by our Board and approved by our shareholders, at their discretion, subject to our Dividend Policy, the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, sufficient profitability, working capital requirements and capital expenditure requirements. We cannot assure you that we will generate sufficient revenues to cover our operating expenses and, as such, pay dividends to our shareholders in future consistent with our past practices, or at all. For information relating to dividend declared by us in the past, see “Dividend Policy” on page 153.

36. Our Promoter and members of the Promoter Group who are also our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel hold Equity Shares, and are, therefore, interested in our Company’s performance other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration of benefits.

Our Promoter and members of the Promoter Group who are also our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel, have interests in our Company and Subsidiaries other than to the extent of normal remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses incurred. For further information, see “Our Management” on page 127. There can be no assurance that our Promoter and members of the Promoter Group will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company.

37. Our Promoter and Promoter Group will continue to retain significant control in our Company, which will allow them to influence the outcome of matters submitted to shareholders for approval.

As of the date of this Prospectus, our Promoter and Promoter Group hold 93.33% of pre-Issue share capital of our Company. Furthermore, after the completion of this Issue, our Promoters will control, directly or indirectly our Company and continue to hold substantial percentage of the issued and paid up equity share capital of our Company. As a result, our Promoter will continue to exercise significant control over us, including being able to control the composition of our Board and determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting of shareholders, and our other shareholders may be unable to affect the outcome of such voting. Our Promoter may take or block actions with respect to our business which may conflict with the best interests of our Company or that of minority shareholders. We cannot assure you that our Promoter will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company.

38. Industry information included in this Prospectus has been derived from industry reports. There can be no assurance that such third party statistical, financial and other industry data in this Prospectus may be complete or reliable.

39. All Indian companies, including our Company, are subject to a new accounting standard, Ind AS 116, effective April 1, 2019.

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) has vide notification dated March 30, 2019 notified ‘Ind AS 116 – Leases’ and we have adopted Ind AS 116 retrospectively from April 1, 2017. Ind AS 116 sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases for both parties to a contract, i.e. the lessee and the lessor. Ind AS 116 introduces a single lease accounting model for lessee and requires the lessee to recognize right of use assets and lease liabilities for all leases with a term of more than twelve months, unless the underlying asset is low value in nature. Ind AS 116 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in Ind AS 17. As per Ind AS 116, the lessee needs to recognise depreciation on right of use assets and finance costs on lease liabilities in the statement of profit and loss. The lease payments made by the lessee under the lease arrangement will be adjusted against the lease liabilities.

The change in accounting policy pursuant to the adoption of Ind AS 116 was considered retrospectively from April 1, 2017 in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information. Consequent to the adoption of Ind AS 116, the impact has been adjusted in the respective periods in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information. For further information, see “Financial Information” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Changes in Accounting Policies” on pages 155 and 210, respectively. Accordingly, the financial statements/information that we have prepared in accordance with Ind AS 116, including our Restated Consolidated Financial Information included in this Prospectus and the financial statements/ information that we will prepare in accordance with Ind AS 116 in the future may not be comparable with our historical financial statements. Investors should rely solely on our Restated Consolidated Financial Information included in this Prospectus for an assessment of our financial position and any investment decision in relation to the Issue.

The governmental and regulatory bodies in India may continue to notify such new accounting standards, regulations and/or policies. There can be no assurance that any such changes in accounting standards, regulations or policies would not lead to different accounting methods, which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

40. The Promoter Group of our Company does not include Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal, parents of Saurabh Goyal, our individual Promoter, or any entity in which Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal may have an interest.

The Promoter Group of our Company does not include Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal, parents of Saurabh Goyal, our individual Promoter, or any entity in which Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal may have an interest. Our Promoter, Saurabh Goyal has disassociated himself from Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal pursuant to a family partition deed entered with Sanjiv Goyal along with his wife Raman Goyal on September 10, 2020. Further to the disassociation, Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal and any entity in which Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal may have an interest are not included in the Promoter Group of our Company. For further information, see “Our Promoter and Promoter Group” on page 143.

We had submitted an exemption application dated November 10, 2020 with SEBI seeking an exemption from including Sanjiv Goyal and Raman Goyal, parents of Saurabh Goyal, our individual Promoter as the Promoter Group of our Company and identifying Nectar Life Sciences Limited as the ‘group companies’ of our Company, as our Promoter has disassociated with Nectar Life Sciences Limited pursuant to the Family Partition Deed dated September 10, 2020 and our Promoter, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel are not connected with Sanjiv Goyal and his wife Raman Goyal in any manner. Subsequently, such exemption was granted to us by SEBI vide its letter bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL1/YJ/KBOW/P/2021/1/582 dated January 11, 2021.

41. Our Company does not have a listed peer which is engaged in a similar line of business or whose business is comparable with our business and therefore, investors must rely on their own examination of accounting ratios of our Company for the purposes of investment in the Issue.

As on the date of this Prospectus, there are no companies which are involved exclusively in a business similar to ours, which are listed on the Indian stock exchanges and accordingly, we are not in a position to provide comparative analysis of our performance with any listed company. Therefore, investors must rely on their own examination of accounting ratios of our Company for the purposes of investment in the Issue. For further information, see “Basis for Issue Price - Comparison with Listed Industry Peers” on page 75.

42. We have issued Equity Shares during the last one year at a price that may be below the Issue Price.

During the last one year we have issued Equity Shares at a price that may be lower than the Issue Price. For further information, see “Capital Structure” on page 61.

The prices at which Equity Shares have been issued by us in last one year should not be taken to be indicative of the Price Band, Issue Price and the trading price of our Equity Shares after listing.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

43. The COVID-19 pandemic, or any future pandemic or widespread public health emergency, could materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

In late 2019, COVID-19 emerged and by March 11, 2020 was declared a global pandemic by The World Health Organization. Governments and municipalities around the world instituted measures in an effort to control the spread of COVID-19, including quarantines, shelter-in-place orders, school closings, travel restrictions, lock down of cities and closure of non-essential businesses. By the end of March, the macroeconomic impacts became significant, exhibited by, among other things, a rise in unemployment and market volatility. The outbreak of COVID-19 in many countries, including India, the United Kingdom and the United States, has significantly and adversely impacted economic activity and has contributed to significant volatility and negative pressure in financial markets, and it is possible that the outbreak of COVID-19 will cause a prolonged global economic crisis, recession or depression, despite monetary and fiscal interventions by governments and central banks globally. On March 24, 2020, the Government of India ordered a national lockdown in response to the spread of COVID-19. Although some governments are beginning to ease or lift these restrictions, the impacts from the severe disruptions caused by the effective shutdown of large segments of the global economy remain unknown and no prediction can be made of when any of the restrictions currently in place will be relaxed or expire, or whether or when further restrictions will be announced.

The outbreak, or threatened outbreak, of any severe communicable disease (particularly COVID-19) could materially adversely affect overall business sentiment and environment, particularly if such outbreak is inadequately controlled. The spread of any severe communicable disease may also adversely affect the operations of our clients and online retailers, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. The outbreak of COVID-19 has resulted in authorities implementing several measures such as travel bans and restrictions, quarantines, shelter in place orders, and shutdowns. These measures have impacted and may further impact our workforce and operations, the operations of our clients, and those of our respective third party manufacturers. There is currently substantial medical uncertainty regarding COVID-19 and no government-certified treatment or vaccine is available. A rapid increase in severe cases and deaths where measures taken by governments fail or are lifted prematurely, may cause significant economic disruption in India and in the rest of the world. The scope, duration and frequency of such measures and the adverse effects of COVID-19 remain uncertain and could be severe. If any of our employees were suspected of contracting COVID-19 or any other epidemic disease, this could require us to quarantine some or all of these employees or disinfect the facilities used for our operations. In addition, our revenue and profitability could be impacted to the extent that a natural disaster, health epidemic or other outbreak harms the Indian and global economy in general.

The outbreak has significantly increased economic uncertainty. It is likely that the current outbreak or continued spread of COVID-19 will cause an economic slowdown and it is possible that it could cause a global recession. The spread of COVID-19 has caused us to modify our business practices, and we may take further actions as may be required by government authorities or that we determine are in the best interests of our employees, customers, partners, and vendor. There is no certainty that such measures will be sufficient to mitigate the risks posed by the outbreak, and our ability to perform critical functions could be harmed. The extent to which the COVID-19 further impacts our results will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of the coronavirus and the actions taken globally to contain the coronavirus or treat its impact, among others. Existing insurance coverage may not provide protection for all costs that may arise from all such possible events. We are still assessing our business operations and system supports and the impact COVID-19 may have on our results and financial condition, but there can be no assurance that this analysis will enable us to avoid part or all of any impact from the spread of COVID-19 or its consequences, including downturns in business sentiment generally or in our sector in particular. The degree to which COVID-19 impacts our results will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including, but not limited to, the duration and spread of the outbreak, its severity, the actions taken to contain the outbreak or treat its impact, and how quickly and to what extent normal economic and operating conditions can resume. The above risks can threaten the safe operation of our facilities and cause disruption of operational activities, environmental harm, loss of life, injuries and impact the wellbeing of our people.

Further in case the lockdown is extended, it could result in muted economic growth or give rise to a recessionary economic scenario, in India and globally, which could adversely affect the business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition of our Company. The full extent to which the COVID-19 pandemic, or any future pandemic or widespread public health emergency impacts our business, operations and financial results will depend on numerous evolving factors that we may not be able to accurately predict, including: the scope, severity, and duration of the pandemic; actions taken by governments, business and individuals in response to the pandemic; the effect on customer demand for and ability to pay for our products; the impact on our capital expenditure and drug development projects; disruptions or restrictions on our employees' and vendors' ability to work and travel; volatility in foreign exchange rates; any extended period of remote work arrangements; and strain on our or our customers' business continuity plans, and resultant operational risk.

44. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws, may adversely affect our business, prospects and results of operations.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. Such changes may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects, to the extent that we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with any such changes in applicable law and policy. For example, the Government of India implemented a comprehensive national goods and services tax (“GST”) regime with effect from July 1, 2017, that combined multiple taxes and levies by the Central and State Governments into a unified tax structure.

The Government of India has announced the union budget for Fiscal 2021 and the Ministry of Finance has notified the Finance Act, 2020 (“Finance Act”) on March 27, 2020, pursuant to assent received from the President, and the Finance Act will come into operation with effect from July 1, 2020. There is no certainty on the impact that the Finance Act may have on our business and operations or on the industry in which we operate. We cannot predict whether any amendments made pursuant to the Finance Act would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals. For instance, a draft of the Personal Data Protection Bill, 2019 (“Bill”) has been introduced before the Lok Sabha on December 11, 2019, which is currently being referred to a joint parliamentary committee by the Parliament. We may incur increased costs and other burdens relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require significant management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

45. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as IFRS and U.S. GAAP, which may be material to investors' assessment of our financial condition.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information for Fiscals 2018, 2019 and 2020 and for the six months period ended September 30, 2020 have been prepared under Ind AS notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 read with the Companies Act, 2013.

Except as otherwise provided in the “Financial Statements”, no attempt has been made to reconcile any of the information given in this Prospectus to any other principles or to base the information on any other standards. Ind AS differs from other accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar, such as IFRS and U.S. GAAP. Accordingly, the degree to which the financial statements, which are restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, included in this Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with Ind AS. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Prospectus should accordingly be limited. In addition, our Restated Consolidated

Financial Information may be subject to change if new or amended Ind AS accounting standards are issued in the future or if we revise our elections or selected exemptions in respect of the relevant regulations for the implementation of Ind AS.

46. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Our Company is incorporated in India, and the majority of our assets and employees are located in India. As a result, we are highly dependent on prevailing economic conditions in India and our results of operations are significantly affected by factors influencing the Indian economy. Factors that may adversely affect the Indian economy, and hence our results of operations, may include:

- the macroeconomic climate, including any increase in Indian interest rates or inflation;
- any exchange rate fluctuations, the imposition of currency controls and restrictions on the right to convert or repatriate currency or export assets;
- the prolonged impact of the outbreak of the COVID-19 or any similar future outbreaks of influenza or a similar contagious disease;
- any scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse impact on economic conditions in India and scarcity of financing for our expansions;
- prevailing income conditions among Indian consumers and Indian corporations;
- volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, India's principal stock exchanges;
- political instability, terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighbouring countries;
- prevailing regional or global economic conditions, including in India's principal export markets;
- geopolitical events such withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union have had and may continue to have an adverse effect on global economic conditions and stability of the global financial markets;
- international business practices that may conflict with other customs or legal requirements to which we are subject, including anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws;
- protectionist and other adverse public policies, including local content requirements, import/export tariffs, increased regulations or capital investment requirements;
- logistical and communications challenges;
- difficulty in developing any necessary partnerships with local businesses on commercially acceptable terms and/or a timely basis; and
- being subject to the jurisdiction of foreign courts, including uncertainty of judicial processes and difficulty enforcing contractual agreements or judgments in foreign legal systems or incurring additional costs to do so.

In addition, the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic has caused an economic downturn in several major economies and generated volatility in, and general adverse impact on, the global securities markets, including in India; further, it is not possible for us to predict the extent and duration of this volatility and adverse impact on the global or Indian securities markets, including any possible impact on our Equity Shares. Any slowdown or perceived slowdown in the Indian economy, or in specific sectors of the Indian economy, could adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition and the price of the Equity Shares.

47. Investors may not be able to enforce a judgment of a foreign court against us.

Our Company is a company incorporated under the laws of India. A majority of our Company's Directors and officers are residents of India and a substantial portion of our assets and such persons are located in India. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process upon our Company or such persons in jurisdictions outside India, or to enforce judgments obtained against such parties outside India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if that court was of the view that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy, or if judgments are in breach or contrary to Indian law. In addition, a party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain approval from the RBI to execute such a judgment or to repatriate outside India any amounts recovered.

48. Any downgrading of India's debt rating by an international rating agency could adversely affect our business.

India's sovereign rating could be downgraded due to various factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves, which are outside our control. In the past, rating agencies have downgraded India's sovereign rating. Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by domestic or international rating agencies may adversely affect our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and financial performance, ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the price of the Equity Shares.

Risks Relating to the Equity Shares

49. The trading volume and market price of the Equity Shares may be volatile following the Issue.

The market price of the Equity Shares may fluctuate as a result of, among other things, the following factors, some of which are beyond our control:

- quarterly variations in our results of operations;
- results of operations that vary from the expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- changes in expectations as to our future financial performance, including financial estimates by research analysts and investors;
- a change in research analysts' recommendations;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments;
- announcements by third parties or governmental entities of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and governmental regulations applicable to our industry;
- additions or departures of key management personnel;
- changes in exchange rates;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume; and
- general economic and stock market conditions.

Changes in relation to any of the factors listed above could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares.

50. The Issue Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue.

The Issue Price of the Equity Shares will be determined by our Company in consultation with the Book Running Lead Manager through the Book Building Process. This price will be based on numerous factors, as described under "Basis for Issue Price" on page 75 and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of the Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Issue, and may decline below the Issue Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

51. The Equity Shares have never been publicly traded and the Issue may not result in an active or liquid market for the Equity Shares. Further, the price of the Equity Shares may be volatile, and the investors may be unable to resell the Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price, or at all.

Prior to the Issue, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the stock exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Issue. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for the Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India and volatility in the Stock Exchanges and securities markets elsewhere in the world.

52. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of Equity Shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. However, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on or before March 31, 2018 on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months will not be subject to long term capital gains tax in India if Securities Transaction Tax (“STT”) is paid on the sale transaction and additionally, as stipulated by the Finance Act, 2017, STT had been paid at the time of acquisition of such equity shares on or after October 1, 2004, except in the case of such acquisitions of equity shares which are not subject to STT, as notified by the Central Government under notification no. 43/2017/F. No. 370142/09/2017-TPL on June 5, 2017. However, the Finance Act, 2018, has now levied taxes on such long term capital gains exceeding ₹ 100,000 arising from sale of Equity Shares on or after April 1, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealized capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such Equity Shares. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of STT, on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Further, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. For further information, see “Statement of Possible Tax Benefits” on page 78.

53. Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then a prior regulatory approval will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all. For further information, see “Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities” on page 286.

54. Fluctuations in the exchange rate between the Rupee and foreign currencies could have an adverse effect on the value of the Equity Shares in those currencies, independent of our operating results.

The Equity Shares are quoted in Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of the Equity Shares will be paid in Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividend to investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares outside India, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares, may reduce the net proceeds received by investors. The exchange rate between the Rupee and foreign currencies (including U.S. dollar) has changed substantially in the last two decades and could fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the value of the Equity Shares and returns from the Equity Shares in foreign currency terms, independent of our results.

55. Investors will be subject to market risks until the Equity Shares credited to the investor’s demat account are listed and permitted to trade.

Investors may begin trading the Equity Shares allotted to them only after they have been credited to an investor’s demat account, are listed and permitted to trade. Since the Equity Shares are currently not traded on the Stock Exchanges, investors will be subject to market risk from the date they pay for the Equity Shares to the date when trading approval is granted for the same. Further, there can be no assurance that the Equity Shares allocated to an investor will be credited to the investor’s demat account or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner.

56. Investors may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company having share capital and incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by adoption of a special resolution by holders of three-fourths of the equity shares voting on such resolution.

However, if the law of the jurisdiction the investors are in, does not permit them to exercise their pre-emptive rights without our Company filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the investors will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights unless our Company makes such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for the investor's benefit. The value such custodian receives on the sale of such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. In addition, to the extent that the investors are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportional interest in our Company would be reduced.

which may not be within the control of our management. This may entail rescheduling and revising the planned expenditure and funding requirement and increasing or decreasing the expenditure for a particular purpose from the planned expenditure at the discretion of our management, subject to compliance with applicable law. Gross Domestic Product (GDP) Growth and Outlook

India has emerged as among the fastest growing economies in the world, and is anticipated to be one of the top three economic powers in the world over the next decade, backed by decisive government initiatives, very high human capital, industrial growth and strategic partnerships (both regional and global).

The market-friendly policies that safeguarded the country from the subdued global economy have improved macroeconomic fundamentals. Robust capital inflow strengthened the economic growth from 5.5% in 2012 to 8.2% in 2016. However, in 2017 the GDP declined to 7.2% from 8.2% in 2016 due to the external vulnerabilities such as global slowdown, impact of demonetization and the transitory effect of goods and services tax (GST) implementation. Further, the economic growth continued to slip downwards in 2018 to 6.8%, as a result of the lingering effect of demonetization and liquidity crunch due to NBFC crisis.

The GDP in India was $2875.14 Billion in 2019, after showing a growth of 4.2% in 2019-20. The medium term growth outlook was expected to improve on account of strong macroeconomic fundamentals – moderate inflation, implementation of key structural reforms and improved fiscal and monetary policies, but then, the COVID-19 pandemic struck the economic activity severely.

Compared with India, the neighbouring countries are significantly smaller economies, with the nearest one, Bangladesh, having approximately 10% of India in terms of GDP in 2019. Maldives is one of the smallest neighbours of India, and it has quickly become a middle-income country, driven by the rapid growth of its tourism and fisheries sectors. Bhutan's small economy is based largely on hydropower, agriculture, and forestry, which provide the main livelihood for more than half the population. The economy is closely aligned with India's through strong trade and monetary links and is dependent on India for financial assistance and migrant labourers for development projects, especially for road construction.

Impact of COVID-19 Pandemic

The currently raging COVID-19 pandemic has had a significant impact on the economies of all countries, though it varies by its impact on their respective industry drivers and their innate growth environment. Many industries, like Hospitality, Travel & tourism, Finance, Entertainment, Retail, and Healthcare, faced as much as 80-90% decline in their businesses. Lock-downs and travel restrictions were implemented, which further impacted the unorganized, informal sectors, putting further pressures on the economy. India, being a large country with a large and diversified economy, was severely impacted, with the Q1 2020-2021 contracting by an unprecedented 23.9%. However, it is expected that it will be followed by growth, bring the aggregated decline of 10.6% for fiscal year 2020-21.

A spike in growth is expected in 2021-2022, but that can be attributed to the decreased base from the previous year. Subsequently, the market is expected to stabilize and grow back to a healthy growth rate of over 5.5% from 2022-2023.

The economies of Maldives and Sri Lanka dependent heavily on tourism and will be among the hardest hit. Maldives is expected to have the highest decline in their GDP by 20.5% in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Tourism industry accounts for over 25% of its economy saw a major decline due to border closures and travel restrictions worldwide. Further, 81% of their exports is fisheries, which, again, was deeply impacted.

Bangladesh, Bhutan and Nepal are expected to show growth, though much lower than their previous forecasts. Bangladesh, the world's second-largest apparel exporter, is anticipated to show GDP growth of 5.2% in 2020-2021, much lower than its previous projection of 8.2%. However, there are increasing risks for Bangladesh, since its apparel export orders from US and EU are getting cancelled.

The COVID-19 pandemic remains a major threat to the economies, due to uncertainties in its propagation, expanding infection waves, and the effectiveness of steps taken by the governments to control the pandemic.

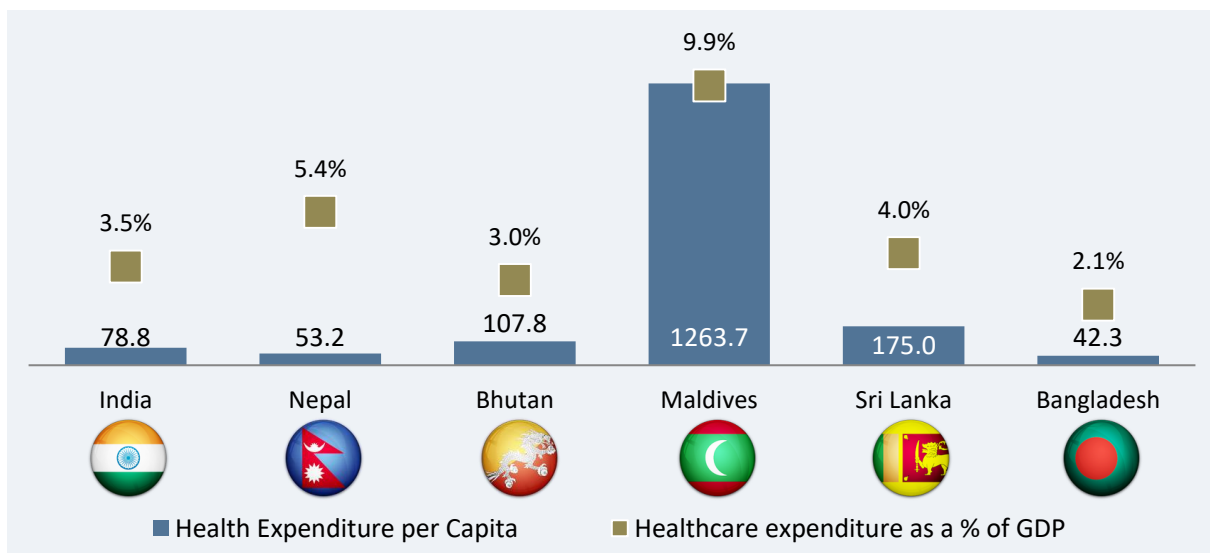

GDP per Capita

The GDP per Capita in India was at $2,104 in 2019, which is only 18% of the world's average of $11,429. It has started increasing between 2012 and 2016, but it slumped between 2017-2019 due to impact of demonetization causing cash shortage and implementation of GST. It was expected that, with the economy getting back on track due to improving business sentiments, the GDP and GDP per Capita would increase once again, but the COVID-19 pandemic hit the economy in early 2020. Among the neighbouring countries, GDP per capita for the Maldives in 2019 was highest, with value of $10,790 and Nepal was lowest with $1,071, making Nepal the poorest.

Healthcare Expenditure

Healthcare expenditure per Capita in India was USD 78.8 in 2019, which places total health expenditure at 3.5% of GDP, much lower than the global average of 11%. Conventionally the healthcare expenditure in the country has been very poor owing to the fact that public expenditure contribute to the total expenditure has been very low in comparison to the other countries.

The central government contribution to the total public expenditure accounts only for 25%, thus making health care a state responsibility. In the last 5 years, we had witnessed the total share of public expenditure increase at a CAGR of 15%. But most of this increase has been attribute to wages hike in the health system. In 2018, International Monetary fund had identified poor state of public health as the 12th most important hurdle for ease of doing business, ahead of tax, crime, regulations and policy instability in the country.

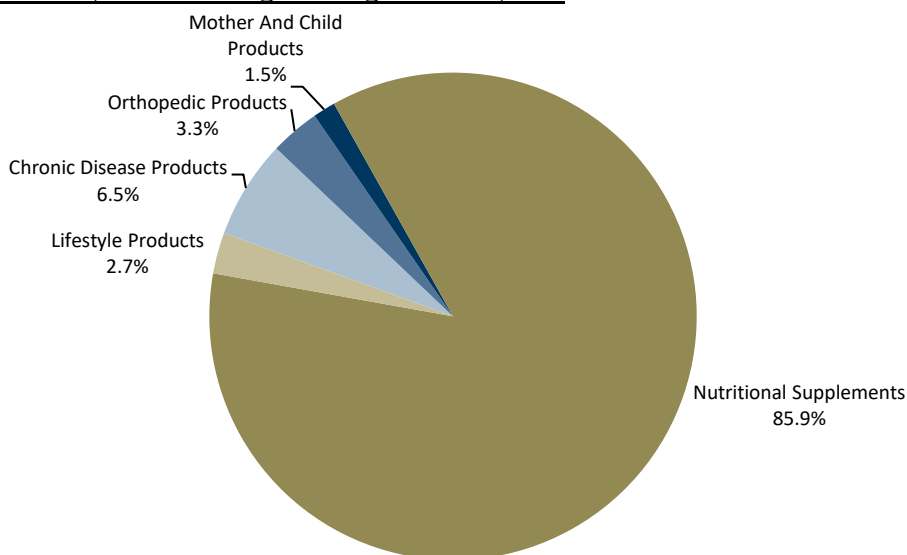

In terms of Health expenditure as a percentage of GDP, Maldives comes on top at ~10%, while Bangladesh ranks lowest at only 2.1%. It is estimated the around 67% of the healthcare expenditure is spent through out-of-pocket expenditure in countries like Bangladesh. This has had high constraint on developed of healthcare infrastructure and also on state of health of the population. This trend of higher reliance on private contribution in the countries in the region has impacted opportunity potential for transformation of healthcare in south Asian region.

Home Health Products Analysis

The Home Health Market in India and neighbouring countries is estimated at ₹ 20,757.0 Cr in 2019 and is expected to grow to ₹ 38,920.7 Cr by 2025 at a CAGR 11.0%. Nutritional Supplements Segment forms ~86% of the total Home Health Market, followed by Chronic Disease Products segment at 6.5%. Highest growth is expected in Lifestyle products, especially Fitness trackers, at CAGR 14.5%, but the other product segments are also growing at robust, similar growth rates between 2019 and 2025.

Home Health Market, India and Neighbouring Countries, 2019

Growth Drivers for Home Healthcare Market and Product Adoption

Increase in geriatric population and chronic diseases and Rising healthcare costs for the patients:

Geriatric population is on the rise and is expected to reach 12.5% of the total population by 2026. This age group has a higher prevalence of chronic diseases such as cancer, coronary ailments, respiratory illnesses, and requires regular healthcare monitoring. The growth in NCDs has led to a “dual burden of disease” for India: having to transform health systems built to fight infectious diseases and provide acute care to manage the silent epidemic of chronic diseases like diabetes, heart diseases, respiratory illnesses and cancers. In India, the number of deaths caused by lifestyle or non-communicable diseases (NCDs) increased from 37.9% in 1990 to ~61.8% in 2016. India is on track to become the global epicentre for non-communicable diseases like diabetes and hypertension. Additionally, ~62% of health expenses are financed out-of-pocket, leading to significant burden on patients. It is unfortunate that the undiagnosed proportion of chronic disease population is still much higher than the established countries ratios. This has led to increase in late stage diagnosis and the burden of increased expenditure due to associated complexities.

The Indian government intervention to manage non-communicable diseases better, has led to the development of standalone - NCD clinics across countries in non-urban areas to improve access to quality primary care across the country. Until March, 2020, there were 665 district NCD Cells, 637 District NCD Clinics, 4472 CHC NCD Clinics, 181 Cardiac Care Units and 218 Day Care Units functional in the country, making the public infrastructure much stronger than a decade ago. There were around 6.61 Crore people who visited the NCD clinics in 2019-2020 and were screened for Diabetes, Hypertension, CVDs and common Cancers. Thus these initiative and outreach program by both public and private sector has increased the awareness of chronic diseases and the need for better management amongst the patient and high-risk population. It is important to note that precursors to chronic diseases are a bigger burden in India. In a survey conducted by JS Thakur et. al. on “Non-communicable diseases risk factors and their determinants: A cross-sectional state-wide STEPS survey, Haryana, North India, 91.3 % has higher intake of salt on a daily basis, increasing the risk of high blood pressure and hypertension. At least 35 % of the population were overweight or obese and were mostly aged above 45 years, thus increasing the risk of more than on chronic condition burden for the patient.

There has been an increase in awareness amongst this high risk population, thereby supporting the adoption of preventative care and home health products. This increase in chronic diseases along with disease burden of communicable diseases has led to an increase in demand for home health devices providing a viable alternative for this monitoring while saving on the expenditure for availing services at a healthcare centre.

Rising awareness and healthcare consumerism:

Private healthcare companies carry out various health awareness programs as part of their marketing activities, which have led to increase in health awareness levels with people focusing more on their fitness, health and well-being. There is an increased focus on preventive care. Patients have become smart consumers who don't want to be constrained on time, place and commuting. This leads to increase in adoption of home health devices. Prior to COVID-19, the online usage for healthcare purchases was growing at a high single digit growth rate. But due to COVID-19, in 2020 at least 9 million household use some form of online healthcare usage (pharmacy included). This trend has been growing and is likely to continue even during post COVID-19 era.

Increasing income levels have contributed to a middle class bulge:

It is important trend to see the upper middle class population to increase from 61 million in 2015 to 168 million by 2030 (forecasted). It is also estimated that low-income group population would reduce from 127 million to 57 million by 2030 (forecasted). Affordability (Per capita income) of Indians is expected to multiply 1.4 times in next 5 years. This increase in affordability and disposable personal income has created a large middle class population and it will likely help sustain demand for health devices and services, translating into healthy growth in the Home Health Devices industry.

The COVID-19 pandemic and focus of reducing hospital induced infections:

Home healthcare helps reduce hospital visits, thereby reducing hospital induced infections. In a survey conducted, it was found at least 70% of the outpatient visits happening didn't require physical interaction and could be replaced with tele-consultations or remote monitoring. While the effort to reduce hospital acquired infections is a continual battle, the raging COVID-19 pandemic and fear of infection has pushed people towards virtual visits and home health products where hospitalization was not necessary e.g. digital blood pressure monitors, nebulizers, thermometers etc. In our research, statistics reveal that 60% of the virtual visits happening in India currently are driven by gynaecological and maternal health visits.

Cost optimization pressures for healthcare providers:

Healthcare providers aim to discharge patients early with the home health devices supporting monitoring. Sale of home health devices provides an additional revenue stream. The basic parameters including heart rate, oxygen saturation, respiratory rate, skin temperature, ECG readings, non-invasive blood pressure can be monitored using remote devices or mobile Health (mHealth) solutions. The hospitals and insurance companies benefit from remote monitoring and reduced adverse events.

Advances in home health technology:

Advancement in technology resulting in affordable monitoring solutions without compromising on quality and accuracy, has enhanced the home healthcare market and led to higher level of independence for patients. The most important feature driving home healthcare in India is affordability. The start-up ecosystem in India, domestic manufacturers has supported the adoption of new technology/ devices that are effective and affordable and customized for Indian population. This is not only makes adoption, but also adherence better.

Restraints to Growth for Home Healthcare Market and Product Adoption

Fragmented and unorganized market: The Home Healthcare Market in India is highly fragmented, with proliferation of local companies, constituting large unorganized sector. Lax regulations and poor compliance in the unorganized sector has led to flooding of poor quality of products in the market. Additionally, the high number of players leads to high competition and pricing pressures, which in turn, results in reduced margins and scalability issues.

Uncertainty about accuracy of results: Home health products, even from reputed companies, are considered consumer grade (not hospital grade), leading to concerns regarding accuracy measures with the product. This is a major concern for clinicians, and they are often deterred from participating/recommending home healthcare products. Their additional concerns with Home Health are risks of inappropriate dose delivery and of self-medication by patients.

Lack of insurance coverage for home health: In India and its neighbouring countries, insurance coverage is for 24 hours hospital stay and day-care procedures. Some of the new insurance offerings include OPD and diagnostics, but have high premiums. There is no policy which covers home healthcare products.

Lack of education and digital awareness: Rural regions have the lowest probability of adoption adherence of home healthcare products. Lack of education of patients and family caregivers is a major barrier towards effective training required for home healthcare products. Poor access to care, prevents people from taking the clinician support to train with usage and hence both adoption and adherences is reducing and scalability is much slower.

Patient preference: Home healthcare products lacks personal touch with doctor which is important for many patients. It's a constant reminder of illness, thus it's crucial to consider patient preference for such products.

Evolution of eCommerce and adoption for Home Health products for India eCommerce has evolved from simple search portals for buying products to digital marketplace that would provide personalized experience for informed purchase decision-making.

eCommerce was estimated to be a $ 24 billion 2017 and is estimated to be worth $ 84 billion by 2021. According to a report from BCG on Consumer Sentiment Survey, 33% of the surveyed population was expected to buy household goods online in India, while only 19% in China, 4% in Brazil and 9% in Thailand believed so.

In the pre-eCommerce era, online catalogues and EDI were the norm, though adopted by few in the healthcare industry – The advent of payment-enabled eCommerce systems led to sale of simpler healthcare products, like consumables, disposable products, and consumer-oriented devices (like wearables), and now set to move towards supplying complex medical devices in a B2B environment.

In the current era of 'Healthcare Consumerization', the role of patients is changing from a reactive recipient of care to playing more proactive role in managing their own health, being better informed about the choices available and demand more quality of service. Consequently, the industry is, now, working towards enabling a higher level of customer experience that people expect.

Consumer focused products, like glucose monitors (SmBG), nebulizers, blood pressure monitors and wearables, have brought further impetus and has facilitated quicker uptake in the eCommerce channel. Future business models may involve an integration of the product sale and service functions (maintenance, repairs, etc.) in the eCommerce channel.

Exhibit 11: Healthcare Consumerization

Source: Frost & Sullivan

The eCommerce platform in India is comparatively nascent, but with the increasing consumerization, increasing technology awareness and the ease of purchase that the platform brings, the adoption is set to grow rapidly.

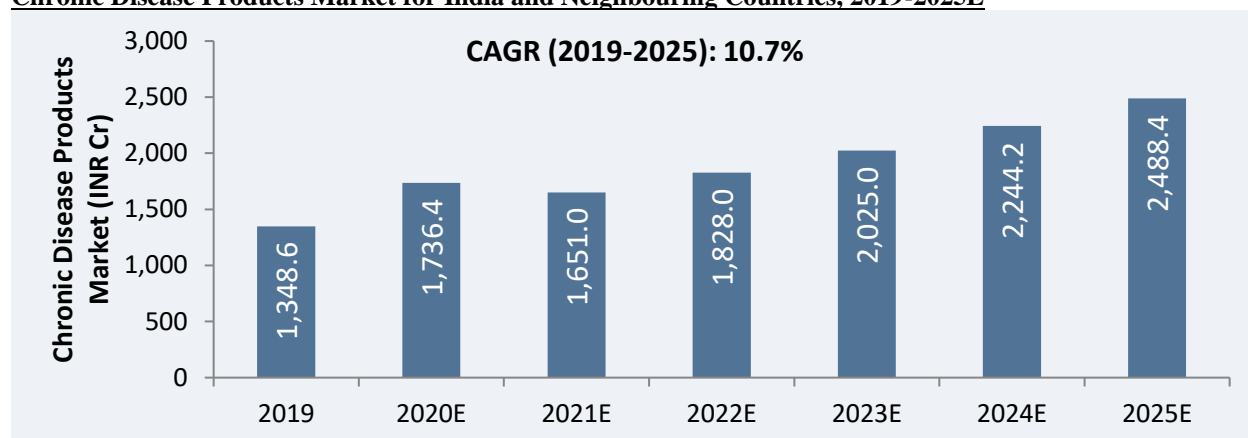

The overall eCommerce adoption in India Home Health market was 25.3% in 2019. While the overall adoption has been increasing over the years, the COVID 19 pandemic has “encouraged” the consumers towards online purchases and pushed growth in this channel during the lockdown restriction period, even up to twice as many online sales prior to this period, for many products, as seen with chronic disease products and nutritional supplements. Furthermore, it also broke through the many barriers and resistance among people to leverage the channel, and made them comfortable – This would provide a sustained momentum to the adoption of eCommerce in the Home Health Market and cross 50% by 2025.

Chronic Disease Products

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), chronic diseases will account for almost three-quarters of all deaths worldwide by 2020 in which 71% of deaths will be due to ischaemic heart disease and 70% of deaths due to diabetes. The stress on the formal healthcare system is high in India and neighbouring countries, with low Healthcare expenditure on one hand, and increasing burden of chronic diseases on the other hand, has led healthcare professionals recommending a wide variety of technologies in non-institutional settings to monitor and manage patients. These technologies help monitor patients with acute and chronic medical conditions, but also help with disease prevention and lifestyle choices.

Self-monitoring of key parameters, like Blood pressure, oxygen saturation, blood glucose, temperature, helps patient management for chronic diseases such as heart disease, Hypertension, Diabetes and respiratory illnesses. Devices, like Oxygen concentrators, nebulizers, humidifiers and steamers, are important tools for treatment of patients in healthcare institutions as well as home. The Chronic Disease products market in India and neighbouring countries was an estimated ₹ 1,348.6 Cr in 2019 and anticipated to grow at CAGR 10.7%, to reach ₹ 2488.4 Cr by 2025.

Chronic Disease Products Market for India and Neighbouring Countries, 2019-2025E

India forms about 87% of the market, growing at CAGR 10.4% between 2020 and 2025. Maldives is growing at a higher rate, since they have a, comparatively, significantly higher health expenditure, but is a very small market within the Indian subcontinent.

Chronic Disease Products Market by Country, 2019 and 2025E

The COVID-19 pandemic has been a major driver for the Chronic Disease Market, with an estimated 28% growth in revenues in 2020. The WHO as well as ICMR (India) have recommended safety measures, but also guidelines for home quarantine, including regular monitoring of key body parameters. Devices, like oxygen concentrators, cylinders, humidifiers, steamers, nebulizers and others, have also shown increasing sales as these are direct interventions during the management of symptomatic COVID-19 patients.

Revenues from Hospitals/Institutional end-users accounted for 80% of the market in 2019, of which 60.3% was attributed to private hospitals. Sales through retail outlets, was pegged at 20%. 76.5% sales were through Hospitals/Institutions, while Digital/eCommerce sales accounted for 23.5%, by revenue in 2019.

Chronic Disease products include the following product types –

- Digital Blood Pressure monitors

- Nebulizers
- Pulse Oximeters
- Portable ECG Machines
- Oxygen concentrators
- Humidifiers and steamers
- Digital and infrared thermometer
- Self-blood glucose monitoring devices (SmbG)

Digital Blood Pressure Monitors

According to the estimates published by the World Health Organization (WHO) in 2019, around 1.15 billion people globally have Hypertension and it is a major cause behind premature death worldwide. It is a major public health problem in India and neighbouring nations, with nearly 400 Mn patients (2019), with a rapidly increasing prevalence across both urban and rural populations. It presents major challenges due to lack of awareness, low and delayed diagnosis and inadequate disease management, especially in the rural areas – In India, the prevalence ranges from 20-40% in urban adults and 12-17% among rural adults, which only highlights the much lower diagnosis rates in rural areas.

The increasing burden of hypertension and the need for regular monitoring has led to an increase in demand for home monitoring devices. Mercury based devices are difficult to use by the normal population, and digital Blood Pressure monitors are gaining popularity. The Digital BP devices market stood at ₹ 292.1 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 502.8 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 9.5%. India formed 84.2% of the market.

The procurement of the product is largely driven by new sales in 2020, driven by the fear of respiratory illnesses due to COVID-19. Sales volumes increased by a factor of two in the initial months of the pandemic, and this trend is expected to continue for atleast eight months in 2020, translating to the sharp increase in revenue in 2020 by 39.6%. However, this fantastic growth would normalize to the previous trajectory by early 2021. The market is fragmented, with many players, including Omron, Dr Morepen, Health Sense and Dr Trust, with Omron and Dr Morepen comprising 20% and 15% market shares respectively. Most players import products from China, Vietnam and US and support 85-90% of the market, by revenue.

Most of the products procured are not prescription driven, but physicians do influence the decision-making process. Pharmacy sales have been the highest contribution to awareness of the products in the last decade. Interestingly, online pharmacy sales have been another growing trend for the product. The users buying the product online are largely new users and are younger age profile. A survey conducted by Frost & Sullivan showcases that new product sales is driven by need amongst 30-45 years old and replacement sales is driven by 50-65 year old users. Brand recall value is minimal amongst young users, while was very high amongst the older users. Atleast 30-40% of the users have tried more than one brand in the last 5 years. This showcases the poor impact of marketing and branding amongst users.

Hospital/Institutional sales accounts for 70% of total revenues, while retail segment accounts for 30%. 20% revenues are through online channels, and 40% are through pharmacies. Both in online sales and in pharmacy sales, pricing takes the top most criteria for electing the product, followed by accuracy/reliability of results and brand perception. Frost has observed from feedback from users that 90% of the online buying decisions for brands are driven by reviews and word of mouth from other users, while 60% of the decision on brand is driven by pharmacists and feedback in pharmacy sales.

Nebulizers

Nebulizers deliver drugs in the form of mist inhaled into lungs of patients suffering from asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) and other respiratory diseases. COPD continues to be the important contribution toward disability, death, and burden in the costs of healthcare. Economic impact of COPD is attributed with substantial direct and indirect costs. Large smoking population, and higher level of outdoor pollution, has resulted in high prevalence rates, especially in Nepal and Bangladesh, where over 12% population is affected. India, comparatively, has a lower prevalence rate, but the actual burden is very high due to the significantly large population. The burden of Asthma in Indian subcontinent is substantial, with an estimate 46 Mn (2019) affected in India alone.

This growing burden of chronic respiratory diseases has boosted the growth of the India nebulizers market. Further, home management is a cost-effective, time saving and viable alternative and provides further boost to the nebulizer market. The Nebulizers market in India and neighbouring countries was estimated at ₹ 260.2 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 518.6 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 12.2%. India forms 86.6% of the market.

The COVID-19 pandemic brought in a rush to purchase nebulizers. However, they are still a prescription driven market, leading to some bottleneck for sales. However, with the increase in tele-consultations and the availability to purchase the devices online from portals like Amazon, Flipkart and others, nebulizers are expected to increase sales volumes by 35-40% for 4-6 months in 2020, resulting in an overall growth in market by 21.4% for the year. However, the market growth will then revert back to the normal trajectory as the urgency due to COVID-19 reduces. The nebulizers market in India is fragmented, with both MNCs and smaller players. Omron is currently the market leader, with 30% market share, followed by Dr Morepen with 25%, and Philips Healthcare with 10% market shares. There are many other players which make up for the remaining 30% market, including Niscomed, Romsons, Dr Trust, AGARO, BPL Medical technologies, K-Life, Niwik and Sahyog Wellness.

Pricing for the devices was expected to increase due to the sudden increase in requirements, because of the increasing cost of importing products and components for assembly. However, there was only slight impact on nebulizers market due to local manufacturing capability, and pre-availability of components. If the pandemic conditions move beyond 2020, there is a risk for escalation in prices, but the future sales volume will depend on urgency driven demand in the market at the time. Adult nebulizer usage has been the highest in the country and driven by institutional sales. Paediatric nebulizer usage trends are low even in institutional cases. Nebulizers is still a prescription driven market, with at least 60-70% of the sales driven by pharmacy purchases and only around 20% driven by online sales. There have been cases of rental modes available for nebulizers, but this share of the market has declined in 2020, owing to COVID-19 fear. The decision-making on the brand is driven by price and need for maintenance, with prescription, physician and pharmacist recommendations playing the key influencers. Investments in institutional care and pharmacy chain are critical for successful growth for companies.

Pulse Oximeters

Pulse Oximeters are used to monitor oxygen level in blood in patients suffering from acute or chronic respiratory disorders. They are used across all levels of care in hospital, alternate and home environments. Growing prevalence of COPD, sleep apnoea, cardiac disorders, ischemic conditions, diabetes, hypertension and asthma are the major driver for growth in demand for pulse oximeters. The COVID-19 pandemic has provided additional impetus to the growth of the oximeters market, with the widespread adoption of home quarantine options by the governments across India and its neighbouring countries e.g. many state governments in India have advised the patients with mild symptoms to stay at home, isolate themselves and get treated at their homes. The requirement of monitoring vitals and symptomatic management at home has given the push to respiratory devices, including pulse oximeters, oxygen concentrators, humidifiers and other vitals tracking devices.

The sudden increase in COVID-19 cases in 2020 has also led to increase in pricing of the devices, which may, in the longer term, restrict the growth of the market. The Pulse Oximeters market in India and neighbouring countries was estimated at ₹ 145.7 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 335.7 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 14.9%. India formed 88.6% of the market.

The procurement of the product is largely driven by the fear of COVID-19 pandemic related respiratory illness, and the volumes increased by 40% in the first few months of the year. This increase is expected to continue for 8-9 months in 2020, highlighting a sharp increase in overall revenues in 2020 by 33.7%, and then reverting back in 2021 to the normal trajectory of growth. Pulse Oximeters can be hospital grade, which are tabletop or handheld units, and are, on average, about eight to ten times costlier than the fingertip oximeters, which are portable, simpler devices targeted towards home health. About 70-80% of the market is driven by hospital/institutional requirements, which comprises of advanced pulse oximeters, but also fingertip oximeters for usage in OPDs and wards. Pulse oximeters for home health, on the other hand, are predominantly prescription driven. About 30% of overall revenues are driven by pharmacy purchases, and 25% through online sales. However, the pandemic led to an increase in home buyers purchasing these products through online channels, thus increasing the proportion of online revenues by 8-10%. The top players in India in terms of market share by revenue are Masimo, Medtronic (Nellcor), BPL and Omron. There are numerous other players in the market including Philips, GE Healthcare, Contec, Dr Trust and many others. Masimo and Medtronic, predominantly, target the hospital market, which accounts for 60% of the total Pulse oximeters sales. The finger-tip pulse oximeter market, on the other hand is extremely fragmented, with BPL and Omron capturing a major share.

A perceived shortage in supply of the devices pushed the average pricing for the product by 20-30%, with the pricing reaching three-to-four-folds in some of the pharmacies. However, this was a transitory situation, and did not sustain beyond a few days. The decision-making on the brand is driven by Brand reputation, physician recommendations, and accuracy/reliability of results, with limited focus on pricing. However, pricing will likely play a more important role if only home buyers (fingertip pulse oximeters) are considered.

Portable ECG Machines

Electrocardiograms (ECGs) record electrical activity of the heart, abnormalities of which are an indicator of heart disease, like arrhythmias and acute coronary syndromes. They are, commonly, the first test conducted in case of suspected cardiovascular diseases or symptoms. The prevalence rate of Cardiovascular diseases (CVD), including coronary heart diseases, stroke, hypertensive heart diseases, inflammatory heart diseases, rheumatoid heart diseases and others, varies widely across India and neighbouring countries; from a high of 6.9% for Sri Lanka to a low of 4.4% for Bhutan. India has a high prevalence of cardiac patients which will grow to an estimated 88 Mn by 2025. The burgeoning burden of cardiac diseases across the countries can be explained by the alarming rise in the prevalence of CVD risk factors like diabetes, hypertension, dyslipidaemia, smoking and central obesity. Further, growing geriatric population, rapid urbanization and increasingly sedentary lifestyle adds to the already increasing propensity towards cardiovascular diseases.

Conventional ECG devices are tedious and time consuming, making way for portable devices, which are now gaining popularity with their ease of use and inherent convenience. Portable devices are gaining acceptance in the hospital setups, with advanced monitoring features and compact designs. Additionally, the increasing acceptance of Home Health due to increasing awareness in the population and the stress of growing health expenditures are also driving the growth in sales of the portable ECG devices which provide basic features suited for home care, high portability and ease of use, many of them using connected health design and/or Artificial intelligence. Companies are integrating smart phones and ECG monitoring devices in order to provide immediate and easy access of ECG waveforms to users and physicians on a real-time basis, enabling improvement of patient outcomes in cardiovascular disease treatment e.g. Delhi-NCR based Agatsa has developed a portable ECG device called SanketLife – a pocket friendly, easy to use ECG device -- the size of a car key chain, and does not require trained personnel to use. The person taking the test needs to touch the device at specified points and the readings of heart rate and rhythm are relayed instantly to a mobile phone application. The readings can, then, be shared with doctors on real-time basis and are stored on the Cloud for future reference. The pricing of the product is significantly lower than other devices, and, with negligible operating costs, these products are anticipated to enable clinics to offer ECG for free as a point-of-care (PoC) diagnostic test. The Portable ECG Devices market in India and neighbouring countries was estimated at ₹ 55.3 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 78.9 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 6.1%. India formed 85.3% of the market. The growth is comparative slower than the other products targeting Home Health market, because the product adoption is lesser – Consumers have, historically, identified ECGs with a physician visit and are unsure due to perceived challenges in understanding the output. However, increasing education and awareness of Artificial intelligence and the ability for remote monitoring are opening the doors to growth in the product category.

The fear of COVID-19 pandemic lock down causing restrictions on monitoring of patients with cardiovascular, renal and other conditions, led to an increase of sales by 21% in 2020. Once the pandemic situation normalizes, likely in 2021, the market growth will normalize to the earlier growth trajectory. Earlier, 80% of sales were directly to hospitals, 10% was through pharmacies and 10% through online sales. In 2020, online sales increased to over 18-20% of the total growth, almost all of it attributable to the Home segment. Philips, BPL and Omron are the major players in India with a combined market share over 60%, of which Philips and BPL have higher end devices, while Omron targets home health. There are several other players as well, including Contec, Dr Trust and many others, majorly having lower cost, home health devices.

Cost and brand reputation were seen to be key decision factors for purchase, with maintenance being the next important factor. Accuracy/reproducibility was assumed by the end-users to be a function of brand reputation.

Humidifiers and Steamers

Humidifiers and steamers are used in multitude of situations, like improving home air quality, but are often used to reduce symptoms of respiratory diseases like allergies, flu and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD). Poor air quality (such as areas of heavy smoke, pollution or other airborne particulates) can serve to further exacerbate COPD symptoms, and humidifiers play a critical role in improving quality of air. Increasing burden of COPD in India and neighbouring countries has led to an increasing demand for these products. The Humidifiers and steamers market in India and neighbouring countries was estimated at ₹ 60.4 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 104.8 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 9.6%. India formed 86.8% of the market.

Procurement of these products is, generally, not prescription driven. 35-40% of total sales is attributed to retail, with 25% of overall sales through online channels. Online sales are set to go higher as awareness and ease of use of the product type and ease of purchase through online channels increase. With the COVID-19 pandemic looming large, people strived towards getting the necessary apparatus towards prevention of respiratory symptoms, especially in patients with COPD, asthma and patients pre-disposed to seasonal flu. This led to a growth of over 16% in the market in 2020, with an increase in revenues through online channels as well. The market is extremely fragmented with many global players, like Dr Morepen, Dr Trust, BMC, and numerous local players. Dr Morepen is the largest player in the market with over 20% market share. Cost of product (discounts) and brand reputation are considered the top criteria in decision-making, with word of mouth, feedback from customers and recommendation from pharmacists playing a crucial role.

Digital and Infrared Thermometers (Medical grade)

Digital thermometers, also known as medical thermometers are ‘contact based’ thermometers used to measure body temperature, and show the temperature on a digital display, eliminating the need for manual readings. Infrared thermometers, on the other hand, perform the same function, but without the need for physical contact. Growing geriatric population, increasing prevalence of infections and chronic respiratory diseases, increasing health awareness and need to reduce cross-infections have led to demand for accurate, low cost, accurate and preferably non-contact thermometers. Governments across countries have taken measures to prevent the spread of COVID-19 infections, and body temperature detection at various junctions, airports, train stations, offices and other gatherings is mandatory. Infrared thermometers are being effectively used for this strategy as the risk of cross-infection is low due to contactless operations. Additionally, they have high accuracy, are low cost, are easy to use, and there is minimal need for calibration. The Digital and infrared Thermometers market in India and neighbouring countries was estimated at ₹ 140.9 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 299.3 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 13.4%. India formed 93% of the market.

Temperature being a crucial symptom for the COVID-19 infection, people bought digital thermometers for home, and infrared thermometers in screening situations (e.g. OPDs, public gatherings, schools, banks, airports and others), and will lead to a growth of 42.2% in 2020. Of the total sales, 30% is through pharmacies and 30% through online sales, while remaining 40% are directly to hospitals – Home health accounts for more than 35%, with a significant proportion of the sales to hospitals passed on to patients, who take their thermometer units home with them once discharged. The key players in the market are Omron, Dr Morepen and Dr Trust which have a combined market share of 70%. The remaining market is fragmented with several participants, like Pigeon, Agaro, Rossmax, Hicks and others. Accuracy/reliability and cost are the key factors taken into consideration for purchase decisions by end-users. Brand awareness ranks lower in the thought process, and it's not surprising to see end-users trying more than one brand during their last few purchases.

Self-monitoring Blood Glucose Devices (SmBG)

Diabetes is a chronic disease, which, if uncontrolled, impacts all organs and body slowly, including leading to chronic renal failure and diabetic retinopathy. Obesity, especially central obesity and increased visceral fat due to physical inactivity, and consumption of high-calorie/high-fat and high sugar diets are the major contributing factors for diabetes in Indians, leading to increasing prevalence of the disease in India and neighbouring countries, with a significant proportion (>35%) becoming diabetic before 45 years age. This leads to increasing long-term complications like retinopathy, renal and neurological deficits, and, consequently, increases the cost of healthcare delivery.

Self-monitoring of blood glucose (SmBG) has become a key component of modern management for diabetes, with recommendations from physicians on monitoring and maintaining acceptable ranges for Blood glucose levels. The awareness of self-monitoring of glucose levels has increased significantly over the years and is driving the SmBG market. The SmBG market in India and neighbouring countries was estimated at ₹ 269.6 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 447.8 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 8.8%. India formed 87.6% of the market.

Blood sugar monitoring is a prescription driven market, but adherence to the monitoring regimen was low. With the COVID-19 pandemic, people have become more health conscious, and this has led to increased adherence, and consequently, leading to a growth in the SmBG market by 22% in 2020. 30% of the revenues is through online sales, 30% through pharmacies, and the remaining 40% to hospitals. Overall, 40-45% is attributed to home health. The major players in the market are Roche (Accu-Chek), Dr Morepen and Abbott (Freestyle) constituting about 75% share by revenue. There are many other players vying for the remaining 25% of the market, including Bayer (Contour plus), Johnson and Johnson (OneTouch), Apollo Sugar, and Dr Trust.

Orthopedic Products

Orthopedic rehabilitation and physiotherapy products are geared towards the rehabilitation process that can be undertaken at home with the aim to bring back appropriate function in patients where there may be loss of function due to a physical or physiological injury. The growth in this market is primarily driven by the increasing incidence of chronic diseases, increasing accidents, rising geriatric population and increasing awareness for therapy. The Orthopedic products market in India and neighbouring countries was an estimated ₹ 682.8 Cr in 2019 and anticipated to grow at CAGR 9.2% to reach ₹ 1,162.9 Cr by 2025.

Orthopedic Products Market of India and Neighbouring Countries, 2019-2025E

India forms over 90% of the market and is growing at CAGR 9.4% between 2020-2025. Maldives and Nepal are showing double-digit growth rates, but the markets are very small within the Indian subcontinent. The COVID-19 pandemic, not surprisingly, did not have any significant impact on the market, but did see a slight increase in online sales, especially for smaller products like massagers and tail bone supports.

Rehabilitation products are segregated into two product groups –

- Rehabilitation products, including wheelchairs, walkers, lumbar support, tail bone supports and similar products.
- Physiotherapy devices, including foot massagers, neck massagers, body massagers, tens therapy devices and others.

Rehabilitation Products

This segment includes wheelchairs, walkers, lumbar support, tail bone supports and similar products. An estimated 15% of the global population (2011) have physical disabilities. This burden is only increasing with growing geriatric population, increasing chronic diseases like Diabetes which increases prevalence of diabetic ulcers, neuropathies and amputations, coupled with increasing injuries from accidents and other causes. This segment was an estimated ₹ 364.1 Cr in 2019, with India forming 95% of the market. It is expected to grow at a robust CAGR 8.8% till 2025 to reach ₹ 604.5 Cr.

Rehabilitation Products Market for India and Neighbouring Countries, 2019-2025E

Rehabilitation Products Market for India and Neighbouring Countries, 2019-2025E

The COVID-19 pandemic is not expected to have any significant impact on the revenues of the rehabilitation products, but some increase on online sales has been observed due to easier purchase process, especially for smaller products like tailbone supports. The sales are, predominantly, prescription driven, with 50% through hospitals/institutional, 25% through pharmacists and 25% through online channels. Over 45% of revenues are attributed to Home care. For some products, like wheelchairs, 30% consumers rent the product on periodic basis. Kosmocare, Viva, JSB, Dr Trust, and Karma (Wheelchairs) are the key players in the market, but the market is fragmented with many smaller players, all catering to some of the products types.

Physiotherapy Devices

This segment includes products like foot massagers, neck massagers, body massagers and Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulation (TENs) therapy devices. Increasing prevalence of cardiovascular and neurological diseases, expanding elderly population and growing awareness about the therapeutic benefits of physiotherapy such as improving mobility and strengthening affected body areas, are the major drivers for the market. It was an estimated ₹ 318.7 Cr in 2019, with India forming 91% of the market, and expected to grow to ₹ 558.4 Cr in 2025 at a CAGR 9.8%.

Physiotherapy Devices Market for India and Neighbouring Countries, 2019-2025E

Physiotherapy Devices Market for India and Neighbouring Countries, 2019-2025E

While prescription drives the physiotherapy devices market, a sizeable proportion is also driven through recommendations from pharmacies and online recommendations on therapy for neck, body and foot pain. 30% revenues are through online sales, 30% through pharmacies, and 40% through hospitals/institutions. Overall 50% of the revenues are attributed to home health. Agaro, Lifelong, Healthsense, Dr Physio, JSB and Dr Trust are the key players in the market, with Agaro and Lifelong having more than 50% market share between them.

Mother and Child Products

Consumption of Mother and Baby products is mainly driven by those born after 1980s as these generations are generally considered to be more willing to try new products, as well as heavily influenced by the Internet, and open to international culture. Convenience is more important to today's young mothers than to those from previous generations. Coupled with a growing disposable income, higher economic independence and a better quality of life, the demand for mother and child products is expected to increase further. India is reported to have the highest number of births in the world, estimated at 121 million (2015-2020).

Quality is more important than ever, which presents a significant opportunity for global companies, which are often perceived by consumers to be of a higher quality, safer, and more reliable than their domestic counterparts. The effects of this demand for quality can be seen in specific and detailed consumer demands for products to be healthy, pollutant-free, environmentally friendly, and contain minimal added additives, as well as to have a long service life. The Mother and Child products industry comprises of Breast pump (manual and automatic pumps), Mother care (bottle sterilizers and bottle warmers), Child care (car seats, baby carriers, baby cots), Nursing pillows, Liquid baby wash, shampoo and lotion, Diaper rash cream, Baby monitors and Strollers.

The Mother and Child market in India and neighbouring countries was an estimated ₹ 310.3 Cr in 2019 and anticipated to grow at CAGR 10.3% to reach ₹ 557.7 Cr by 2025.

India forms about 86% of the market, growing at CAGR 10.3% between 2020 and 2025. India also forms the fastest growing market attributed to the huge population base and improving healthcare infrastructure. Revenues from Retail segment end-users accounted for 90% of the market in 2019, and only 7.4% was attributed to private hospitals. Sales through government facilities were negligible.

82.7% sales were through Hospitals/Institutions, while Digital/ecommerce sales accounted for 17.3%, by revenue in 2019. Mother and Child care products include the following product types –

- Breast pump (manual and automatic pumps)
- Mother care (bottle sterilizers and bottle warmers)
- Child care (car seats, baby carriers, baby cots)
- Nursing pillows
- Liquid baby wash, shampoo and lotion
- Diaper rash cream
- Baby monitors
- Strollers

Breast Pumps (manual and automatic pumps)

Breast pumps are medical devices used by breastfeeding women to extract (“express”) their breast milk. Breast pumps can also be used to maintain or increase a woman's milk supply, relieve engorged breasts and plugged milk ducts, or pull out flat or inverted nipples so a nursing baby can latch-on to its mother's breast more easily. At present, various types of pumps are available in the market such as manual pumps, electric pumps and battery operated pumps. The World Health Organization recommends breastfeeding for the first two years of a child's life. Even though breastfeeding rates are on the rise globally, a rise in the number of working women means that less than half this number are still breastfeeding their baby at six months. Many women find it convenient, or even necessary, to use a breast pump to express and store their breast milk once they have returned to work, are traveling, or are otherwise separated from their baby. Frost & Sullivan estimates that over 60% of working women are open to try the usage of Breast pumps, but the adoption is set to increase with growing awareness, education and breaking of the cultural barriers. The Breast Pumps market stood at ₹ 31 Cr in 2019, and is anticipated to reach ₹ 57 Cr by 2025, at a CAGR 10.7%. India formed 86% of the market.

The COVID-19 pandemic led to lockdown restrictions, and increased the availability of mothers at home, which is expected to reduce the revenues by 31% in revenues pumps in 2020. As the market opens up, women will start going back to office environments, and the previous trend will continue. 65% of the market is retail, and the remaining 35% is attributed to Hospital/institutional sales. Online sales were 25%, whereas 35-40% were through pharmacies. The market is consolidated, with Philips, Mee Mee and Pigeon, comprising over 60% of the market share. However, the remaining 40% of the market has many players, including Morisons, Derby, Luv Lap, Trumom, Medela, and others.

About Nureca Limited

Nureca entered the India market 4 years ago, a time when the market was flooded with many products in the Home Health market – premium companies brought good products but with out-dated technology; smaller players, both local and Chinese, were bringing in generic and low-quality products – Nureca identified and targeted the opportunity to address the need for innovative products but with high quality at reasonable premium, and are showing a significant growth due to the impressive response from the market. The current addressable segments for Nureca in India and neighbouring countries are Chronic Disease Products, Mother and child care and Orthopedic products. They sell their innovative products through their brand portfolios – Dr Trust, Trumom and Dr Physio.

Currently, 95% of revenues for Nureca come through digital channels (eCommerce). However, this poses an opportunity for Nureca to expand into the offline channel. This would provide significant impetus to their growth, and build their brand value as well. To expand their business footprint, Nureca, in October 2019, joined hands with Croma, India's first omni-channel electronics retailer from the Tata Group, to emerge as the very first company to sell healthcare and wellness products through Croma stores. As part of this tie-up, Nureca will sell products from its Dr Trust and Dr Physio brands at 30 Croma stores across the country, and this would grow with the increasing adoption of the products.

Business response to COVID-19

Since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic in March 2020, our Company has responded swiftly by implementing various processes to ensure our operations continue seamlessly. As we are engaged in marketing of home healthcare products, which helps the user to monitor their health from their home, our products such as oximeter, gluco meter, nebulizer and BP monitor were categorized under the essential goods' and our operations were not shut down during this pandemic. Further, these products also helped the user from visiting the hospitals during the lockdown. However, due to limited availability of logistics and supply chain constraints, we were impacted during the initial period of the lockdown. We continued our operation after making arrangements to meet the government's requirements on sanitization, people movement and social distancing

Home healthcare helps reduce hospital visits, thereby reducing hospital induced infections. In a survey conducted, it was found at least 70% of the outpatient visits happening didn't require physical interaction and could be replaced with tele-consultations or remote monitoring. While the effort to reduce hospital acquired infections is a continual battle, the raging COVID-19 pandemic and fear of infection has pushed people towards virtual visits and home health products where hospitalization was not necessary e.g. digital blood pressure monitors, nebulizers, thermometers etc. In our research, statistics reveal that 60% of the virtual visits happening in India currently are driven by gynaecological and maternal health visits. (Source: Frost & Sullivan)

We have experienced sustained growth in our business in recent years, including currently during the ongoing outbreak of COVID-19. We consider that our swift response and proactive steps taken have mitigated the impact of COVID-19 pandemic on our business and personnel thus far. The future impact of COVID-19 or any other severe communicable disease on our business and results of operations depends on several factors. For further details see "Risk Factors -Our business has been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and may continue to affect our business, results of operations and financial condition" on page 25. Also see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Recent Development – Impact of COVID-19"

We enter into agreements with vendors who manufacture our products as per our specifications and this allows us to scale our operations quickly at a pre-determined cost and as per our quality standards without incurring any capital expenditure on manufacturing facilities. We have set internal parameters in relation to our products, which has led to establishment of our brand identity amongst our customers. We operate on an asset light business model which does not require us to invest heavily on physical assets such as plant and machinery, land and property and therefore we believe this business model allows us to be capital efficient. We believe our business model is scalable, such that we can expand our geographical reach and distribution capacity and add new products efficiently and at a relatively low cost without disrupting our existing business. We also believe that our asset light model allows us to leverage our strong product portfolio, coupled with a strong distribution network and long standing relationships with vendors to contribute to the profitable growth and development of our business. We exercise control and regular supervision over the manufacturing operations at the facilities of our manufacturing partners through our personnel who is stationed close to such facilities or through a third party arrangement who periodically visit these facilities for inspection enabling us to efficiently carry out production changes in designs or quality of products required. Further outsourcing the manufacturing of our products allows us to increase production capacity as required and without incurring additional capital expenditure, by utilizing additional capacity with existing plants or entering into agreements with new plants.

While we design our products internally, we contract with our manufacturers and vendors to manufacture our products. Typically, our manufacturers and vendors help to manufacture our products based only on the design and technical specifications provided by us. The technical specifications we provide include a detailed description of the components to ensure quality, overall technical compatibility and consistency with design. We choose manufacturers and vendors based on internal parameters such as assurance on quality, manufacturing capacity, ability to scale manufacturing with minimum lead time, technical capability to implement designs, testing capabilities, reputation and relationship.

To manage an appropriate level of inventory for each our products, we track our inventory on an everyday basis. Our Distribution Network

Online Channels

We are a digital first company where in we sell our products through online channels partners such as e-commerce players, distributors and retailer. Further, we also sell our products through our own website drtrust.in. Our agreements with online channel partners such as e-commerce players, distributors and retailers are typically non-exclusive in nature. We agree to share either a specified percentage of the margin on the maximum retail price or additional margin on the basis of the revenues generated by our products. In certain cases, we also agree to share any discount granted, on mutually agreed terms. Additionally, some of these agreements give rights to the online channel partners to liquidate the unsold inventory, post termination of agreement, by continuing to sell off the products until the inventory is sold.

Currently, 95% of revenues for our Company come through digital channels (e-Commerce). However, this poses an opportunity for our Company to expand into the offline channel. This would provide significant impetus to their growth, and build their brand value as well (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

Branding, Sales, Marketing and Advertising

We have a defined set of guidelines which govern the branding, marketing and advertising initiatives of our products to ensure that these activities are in line with brand guidelines and identities. We utilize identifiable and standardized colours and typography across packaging material.

We employ an internal team of professionals that advertises and promotes our brand through visual merchandising, brand-awareness campaigns, social media and consumer relationship management. We have a dedicated marketing team comprising of 21 employees as on December 31, 2020. For Fiscal 2020 and Fiscal 2019, our advertising expenses on a consolidated basis were ₹31.31 million and ₹23.12 million, respectively, or, 3.15% and 3.74% of our consolidated revenue from operations, respectively.

Brand-awareness campaigns: We intend to continue to enhance the brand recall of our products through the use of targeted marketing initiatives such as digital and television advertisements and advertisement on e-commerce platforms, as well as marketing through traditional channels such as outdoor advertising. Our marketing and advertising initiatives are directed to increase brand awareness, acquire new customers, drive customer traffic across our retail channels and strengthen and reinforce our brand image.

Social media: In addition to traditional print media, digital and online public relations is becoming an area of increased focus and spending. Blogs, bloggers and social networking websites are becoming increasingly important to reach design and trend influencers, consumers and the press. Marketing campaigns are developed to have strong social media content, including video segments and engagement contests, in order to increase brand followers on social media. We encourage consumer engagement in social media and also use social media to both communicate and elevate the brand's reputation for superior quality.

Pricing Policy

We believe that our ability to grow our business in accordance with our strategy will depend on our ability to introduce new products, respond to pricing strategies by competitors, redevelop our brand, execute agreements with channel partners and technology partners and develop intellectual property. Pricing is the most important metric for decision-making by end-users, followed by Brand reputation. Another crucial element is the availability of choices. Given that these are lower ticket items, and online channel provides wider choices, it is not surprising that online channels are being increasingly preferred, and recommendations from online reviews play a very important part in end-users developing their views (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). Since our inception, we have emphasised the importance of fair trade practices by focusing on building consumer trust through our product quality, durability, accuracy, functionality, innovative designs and pricing. Our product prices reflect applicable taxes as well as general market demands and price trends

Inventory management, Warehousing and Logistics

We regard efficient inventory management as critical to the success of our business. Our inventory management processes include product allocation for all our sales channels and store planning based on an assessment of sales potential and requirements. We have strict inventory management and monitoring practices in place that allows us to account for each piece of inventory and to ensure efficiency. Further, to manage an appropriate level of inventory for each of our products, we also track our inventory on an everyday basis. We plan our inventory procurement by forecasting demand analysis based on our targeted sales and inventory turnover. We generally endeavour to maintain inventory levels in lines with customer demand. We also endeavour to ensure that product requirements and order fulfilment is carried out in a timely and efficient manner. Our inventory management processes are supported by our leasehold warehouses. We continuously look for opportunities to optimize our supply chain network as well as warehouse processes to optimize our efficiency and productivity. We rely on third party logistics providers, with whom we enter into agreements, to transport our products.

After Sales Service

If any of our customers face a technical issue with our product, they can contact our in house customer care through phone or email. Troubleshooting is done over the phone or email, through videos and educating the customer about the correct procedure to operate a product.

In some cases, a physical check may be required for repair or replacement during the warranty period. Our company has an ISO 9001:2015 certification, which is applicable to sales, services and warehousing of medical devices, consumer electronics, pharmaceutical and personal care products and in house QA team in Punjab, which checks the product for any physical defect. In case any defect is found in the product, which is covered under the warranty terms, the product is repaired/ replaced by our service team and sent back to the customer. It furnishes the defective pieces data to the vendor and the vendor sends the replacement pieces along with the next shipment to our Company.

Competition

We compete with local and global companies operating in India. The market is extremely fragmented with over fifty players, most of them Indian, with mostly generic products, showcasing no significant competitive advantage in terms of innovation or differentiation. There are numerous other players in the market, like Omron, Philips, Johnson and Johnson, Roche, Bayer competing on technological advances, features and competitive pricing (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). In the future, we may also face competition from new entrants in the segment. Some of these players may already have robust distribution networks, which could eat into our market share. Some of our competitors are larger than we are, have greater financial resources than we do, and may be able to deliver products on more attractive terms or to invest larger amounts of capital into their businesses, including expenditure for better and more efficient production capabilities. See “Risk Factors - We face intense competition and may not be able to keep pace with the rapid technological changes in the health product devices industry.” on page 33.

Information Technology

particular to communication. Recently, we have switched over to the SAP ERP platform for the smooth functioning of our business. Modules like sales and distribution, production planning, quality management, finance and controlling, materials management are part of the SAP ERP system.

The major statutes in India which seek to regulate and protect the environment against pollution related activities in India include the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974, the Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981 and the Environment Protection Act, 1986. The basic purpose of these statutes is to control, abate and prevent pollution. In order to achieve these objectives, Pollution Control Boards (the “PCBs”), which are vested with diverse powers to deal with water and air pollution, have been set up in each state. The PCBs are responsible for setting the standards for maintenance of clean air and water, directing the installation of pollution control devices in industries and undertaking inspection to ensure that industries are functioning in compliance with the standards prescribed. These authorities also have the power of search, seizure and investigation if the authorities are aware of or suspect pollution that is not in accordance with such regulations. All industries and factories are required to obtain consent orders from the PCBs, which are indicative of the fact that the factory or industry in question is functioning in compliance with the pollution control norms. These consent orders are required to be renewed annually.

The said rules also require the body corporate to provide a privacy policy for handling and dealing on personal information, including sensitive personal data.

B. Intellectual property laws

Intellectual property rights in India enjoy protection under both statutory and under common law. The key legislations governing intellectual property in India are the Copyright Act, 1957, Trade Marks Act, 1999 and Patents Act, 1970. India is also a party to several international agreements for the protection of intellectual property rights.

The Trademarks Act, 1999 ("TM Act")

The TM Act, provides for the application and registration of trademarks in India. The purpose of the TM Act is to grant exclusive rights to marks such as a brand, label and heading and to obtain relief in case of infringement for commercial purposes as a trade description. The registration of a trademark is valid for a period of 10 years and can be renewed in accordance with the specified procedure.

Application for trademark registry has to be made to Controller-General of patents, designs and TM Act who is the Registrar of Trademarks for the purposes of the TM Act. The TM Act prohibits any registration of deceptively similar trademarks or chemical compound among others. It also provides for penalties for infringement, falsifying and falsely applying trademarks.

The Copyright Act, 1957 ("Copyright Act")

The Copyright Act governs copyright protection in India. Under the Copyright Act, copyright may subsist in original literary, dramatic, musical or artistic works, cinematograph films, and sound recordings. Following the issuance of the International Copyright Order, 1999, subject to certain exceptions, the provisions of the Copyright Act applies to nationals of all member states of the World Trade Organization.

While copyright registration is not a prerequisite for acquiring or enforcing a copyright, registration creates a presumption favoring ownership of the copyright by the registered owner. Copyright registration may expedite infringement proceedings and reduce delay caused due to evidentiary considerations. Once registered, the copyright protection of a work lasts for 60 years. The remedies available in the event of infringement of a copyright under the Copyright Act include civil proceedings for damages, account of profits, injunction and the delivery of the infringing copies to the copyright owner.

Designs Act, 2000 ("DA") and the Designs Rules, 2001 ("DR")

The DA regulates and protects the originality of an article's design and prohibits the piracy of registered designs. The primary objective of the Act is to protect new or original designs from getting copied, and ensure that the creator, originator or artisan of the design is not deprived of their rightful gains for the creation of their design. The central government also drafted the DR under the authority of the DA for the purposes of specifying certain prescriptions regarding the practical aspects related to designs such as payment of fees (available in the First Schedule of the Rules, amended through the DR, 2014), register for designs, classification of goods, address for service, restoration of designs, etc.

SUPPLEMENTARY FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Non-GAAP Financial Measure

In evaluating our business, we consider and use non-GAAP financial measure i.e. EBITDA to review and assess our operating performance. This non-GAAP financial measure is not defined under Ind AS and are not presented in accordance with Ind AS. Our non-GAAP financial measure may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies due to potential inconsistencies in the method of calculation. We have included our non-GAAP financial measures because we believe they are one of the indicative measures of our operating performance and are used by investors and analysts to evaluate companies in the same industry. Our non-GAAP financial measure should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for, other measures of financial performance and liquidity reported in accordance with Ind AS. This measure should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to Ind AS measures of performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or results of operation. The presentation of this non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the Restated Consolidated Financial Information. The basis and methodology used to calculate the EBITDA is given below.

We have included EBITDA (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization), which is a non-GAAP financial measure, in this Prospectus.

The following table reconciles our profit before tax (a GAAP financial measure) to EBITDA (non GAAP financial measure):

Particulars	(In ₹ million)
	For the period April 1, 2020 to September 30, 2020	Fiscal 2020	Fiscal 2019	Fiscal 2018
Profit after tax (A)	361.80	63.95	62.26	31.12
Tax Expense (B)	124.65	22.13	26.15	12.11
Profit before tax (C =A+B)	486.45	86.08	88.41	43.23
Finance costs (D)	11.83	7.73	2.44	0.64
Depreciation and amortization expenses (E)	1.78	3.74	0.57	0.06
EBITDA (F=C+D+E)	500.06	97.55	91.42	43.93

EBITDA is included as supplemental disclosure as our management considers that they are useful indicators of our operating performance. Derivations of this non-GAAP financial measure are well-recognised performance measurements in the fast moving consumer goods industry that are frequently used by companies, investors, securities analysts and other interested parties in comparing the operating performance of companies in our industry. Our management also considers EBITDA to be useful for evaluating performance of our senior management team. However, because derivations of this measure is not determined in accordance with GAAP, such measure is susceptible to varying calculations, and not all companies calculate the measures in the same manner. As a result, derivations of these measures as presented may not be directly comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies.

This non-GAAP financial measure have limitations as an analytical tool. Some of these limitations are: it do not reflect our cash expenditures or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments; it do not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs; it do not reflect the significant interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments, on our debt; although depreciation and amortisation are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortised will often have to be replaced in the future, and this measures do not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements; and other companies in our industry may calculate EBITDA differently than we do, limiting their usefulness as a comparative measure. Because of these limitations, EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for performance measures calculated in accordance with GAAP.

- Capital reserve : Impact on capital reserve of INR 5.93 due to applying the accounting principles mentioned in appendix C of Ind AS 103 on 01 April, 2017 and 01 April 2019 separately.
- Retained earnings : Increase in right of use asset by INR. 0.05 (net of deferred tax impact of INR 0.02) due to remeasuring the lease liability for remaining period of lease contracts on 01 April 2019 by applying same accounting policy choice as that of 01 April 2017 in accordance with Ind AS 101.

- e. the resultant tax impact on above adjustments has been appropriately adjusted in deferred taxes in the respective years to which they relate.

Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ('the functional currency'). The Restated Consolidated Financial Information are presented in Indian rupee (INR), which is also the Company's functional currency. All amounts have been rounded-off to the nearest millions, up to two places of decimal, unless otherwise indicated. Amounts having absolute value of less than INR 10,000 have been rounded and are presented as INR 0.00 million in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.

Basis of measurement

The restated Consolidated financial information has been prepared on the historical cost basis except for the following items:

Items	Measurement basis
Certain financial assets (except trade receivables and contract assets which are measured at transaction cost) and liabilities (including derivative)	Fair value
Defined benefits obligation	Present value of defined benefits obligations

2.2 Basis of consolidation

The financial information of the Company and its subsidiaries is combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together like items of assets, liabilities, equity, incomes, expenses and cash flows, after fully eliminating intra-group balances and intra-group transactions.

Profits or losses resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in full.

Foreign operations

Revenue items are consolidated at the average rate prevailing during the period / year. All assets and liabilities are converted at rates prevailing at the end of the period / year. Any exchange difference arising on consolidation is recognized in the Foreign Currency Translation Reserve (FCTR).”

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information have been prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances.

The carrying amount of the Company’s investment in subsidiaries is offset (eliminated) against the Company’s portion of equity in subsidiaries.

The detail of consolidated entity as follows:

Name of subsidiary	Country of incorporation	Percentage of ownership #

2.3 Summary of significant accounting policies

A summary of the significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information are as given below. These accounting policies have been applied consistently to all periods/years presented in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.

2.3.1 Current vs non-current classification

The Group presents assets and liabilities in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities based on current/ non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Group classifies all other assets as non-current.

A liability is treated as current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Group classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents. The Group has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

2.3.2 Business combinations

Ind AS 103, Business Combinations, prescribes significantly different accounting for business combinations which are not under common control and those under common control.

Business combinations involving entities or businesses under common control shall be accounted for using the pooling of interest method.

The pooling of interest method is considered to involve the following:

- (a) The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts.
- (b) No adjustments are made to reflect fair values or recognize any new assets or liabilities. The only adjustments that are made are to harmonies accounting policies.
- (c) The financial information in respect of prior periods should be restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information, irrespective of the actual date of the business combination.
- (d) The identity of the reserves has been preserved and appear in the financial information of the transferee in the same form in which they appeared in the financial information of the transferor.
- (e) The difference, if any, between the consideration and the amount of share capital of the acquired entity is transferred to capital reserve.

2.3.3 Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and Initial Measurement

Property, plant and equipment is recognized when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of each item can be measured reliably. Property, plant and equipment are initially stated at their cost.

Cost of asset includes:

- a) Purchase price, net of any trade discounts and rebates;
- b) Cost directly attributable to the acquisition of the assets which incurred in bringing asset to its working condition for the intended use; and
- c) Present value of the estimated costs of dismantling & removing the items & restoring the site on which it is located if recognition criteria are met.

Subsequent measurement

Property, plant and equipment are subsequently measured at cost net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditure is capitalized if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group and cost of the expenditure can be measured reliably.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has elected to continue with the carrying value of all the items of property, plant and equipment recognized as at 1 April 2019, measured as per the previous GAAP, and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of such property, plant and equipment. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. 1 April 2019 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Ind AS Financial Information for the years ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018. Also, refer note 39 of Annexure VI.

Depreciation and useful lives

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on straight line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets as specified in schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Particulars	Management estimated useful life	Useful life as per Schedule II
Computers	3 Years	3 Years
Office Equipment	5 Years	5 Years
Furniture and fixtures	10 Years	10 Years

Depreciation on additions to/deductions from property, plant and equipment during the period/year is charged on pro-rata basis from/up to the date on which the asset is available for use/disposed.

Each part of an item of property, plant and equipment is depreciated separately if the cost of part is significant in relation to the total cost of the item and useful life of that part is different from the useful life of remaining asset.

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Derecognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognized is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

2.3.4 Impairment of non-financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group assesses, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Group estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount and the impairment loss, including impairment on inventories are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

For assets excluding goodwill, an assessment is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognized impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the Group estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior period. Such reversal is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

2.3.5 Inventories

- a) Inventories (which comprise traded goods) are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on First in First out (FIFO) basis.
- b) Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The comparison of cost and net realizable value is made on an item-by-item basis.

2.3.6 Revenue recognition

The specific recognition criteria described below must also be met before revenue is recognized.

a) Sale of products

Revenue from sale of products is recognized at the point in time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer at the time of shipment to or receipt of goods by the customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services.

The Group has concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements as it typically controls the goods or services before transferring them to the customer.

If the consideration in a contract includes a variable amount, the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for transferring the goods to the customer. The variable consideration is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant revenue reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the associated uncertainty with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

The goods and service tax (GST) is not received by the Group on its own account. Rather, it is tax collected on behalf of the government. Accordingly, it is excluded from revenue.

b) Contract balances

- Contract assets: A contract asset is the right to consideration in exchange for goods or services transferred to the customer. If the Group performs by transferring goods or services to a customer before the customer pays consideration or before payment is due, a contract asset is recognized for the earned consideration that is conditional.
- Trade receivables: A receivable represents the Group's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due).
- Contract liabilities: A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Group transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made, or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Group performs under the contract.

c) Right of return

Group provides a customer with a right to return in case of any defects or on grounds of quality. The Group uses the expected value method to estimate the goods that will not be returned because this method best predicts the amount of variable consideration to which the Group will be entitled. The requirements in Ind AS 115 on constraining estimates of variable consideration are also applied in order to determine the amount of variable consideration that can be included in the transaction price. For goods that are expected to be returned, instead of revenue, the Group recognizes a refund liability. A right of return asset and corresponding adjustment to change in inventory is also recognized for the right to recover products from a customer.

The Group has adopted Ind AS 115 from 1 April 2019 using the modified retrospective approach by applying Ind AS 115 to all the contracts that are not completed on 1 April 2019. The application of Ind AS 115 did not have any material impact on recognition and measurement principles. However, it results in additional presentation and disclosure requirements for the Group. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. 1 April 2019 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Ind AS Financial Information for the years ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018.

The Group has also applied the practical expedient under Ind AS 115 for incremental cost of obtaining a contract and has recognized such cost as an expense when incurred if the amortization period of the asset is one year or less.

2.3.7 Taxes

a) Current tax

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities in accordance with relevant tax regulations. Current tax is determined as the tax payable in respect of taxable income for the period/year and is computed in accordance with relevant tax regulations. Current tax is recognized in restated consolidated statement of profit and loss except to the extent it relates to items recognized outside profit or loss in which case it is recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income ('OCI') or in equity). Current tax items are recognized in relation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes current tax payable where appropriate.

Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

b) Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax is recognized in restated consolidated statement of profit and loss except to the extent it relates to items recognized outside profit or loss, in which case is recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

2.3.8 Foreign currencies

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the functional currency, by applying the exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

Foreign currency monetary items outstanding at the reporting date are converted to functional currency using the closing rate (Closing selling rates for liabilities and closing buying rate for assets). Non-monetary items denominated in a foreign currency which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transactions.

Exchange differences arising on settlement of monetary items, or restatement as at reporting date, at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period/year in which they arise. These exchange differences are presented in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss on net basis.

2.3.9 Employee benefit

a) Short-term employee benefits

Employee benefits such as salaries, short term compensated absences, and other benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits and undiscounted amount of such benefits are expensed in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period in which the employee renders the related services.

b) Post-employment benefits

- Defined Contribution Plan: A defined contribution plan is a plan under which the Group pays fixed contributions into a separate entity and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further amounts.

The Group makes specified monthly contribution to the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner towards provident fund and employee state insurance scheme ('ESI') which is a defined contribution plan. The Group's contribution is recognized as an expense in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss during the period/year in which the employee renders the related service.

- Defined Benefit Plan: A defined benefit plan is a post-employment benefit plan other than a defined contribution plan. Under such plan, the obligation for any benefits remains with the Group. The Group's liability towards gratuity is in the nature of defined benefit plan.

The Group has an obligation towards gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan covering eligible employees. The plan provides for a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment. Vesting occurs upon completion of five years of service.

The liability in respect of gratuity is accrued in the books of accounts on the basis of actuarial valuation carried out by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

The Group's net obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows using a discount rate based on the market yield on government securities of a maturity period equivalent to the weighted average maturity profile of the defined benefit obligations at each reporting date.

Re-measurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, is recognized in other comprehensive income and is reflected in retained earnings and the same is not eligible to be reclassified to restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Defined benefit costs comprising current service cost, past service cost, interest cost and gains or losses on settlements are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss as employee benefits expense. Gains or losses on settlement of any defined benefit plan are recognized when the settlement occurs. Past service cost is recognized as expense at the earlier of the plan amendment or curtailment and when the Group recognizes related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

c) Other long-term employee benefits

Benefits under the Group's compensated absences constitute other long-term employee benefits, recognized as an expense in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss for the period in which the employee has rendered services. The obligation recognized in respect of these long-term benefits is measured at present value of the obligation based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit credit method.

Long term employee benefit costs comprising current service cost, interest cost and gains or losses on curtailments and settlements, re-measurements including actuarial gains and losses are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss as employee benefit expenses.

Certain employees were transferred from Nectar Biopharma Private Limited pursuant to the scheme of arrangement, approved by NCLT on 29 April 2020 (also refer note 36). The process of completing the formalities pertaining to transfer of such employees has been fully completed on 01 September 2020.

2.3.10 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent includes cash on hand, cash at banks and short-term deposits with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

For the purpose of the restated consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of unrestricted cash and short-term deposits, as defined above as they are considered an integral part of the Group's cash management.

2.3.11 Provisions, contingent assets and contingent liabilities

a) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, considering the risk and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

b) Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation or present obligations that may but probably will not, require an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or the amount of such obligation cannot be measured reliably. When there is possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which likelihood of outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

These are reviewed at each financial reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

c) Contingent assets

Contingent assets are not recognized though are disclosed, where an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

2.3.12 Leases

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period in exchange for consideration.

a) Group as a lessee

The Group applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The Group recognizes lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

i) Right-of-use assets

The Group recognizes right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any re-measurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognized, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets.

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the Group at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

ii) Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognizes lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognized as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is re-measured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

The Group's lease liabilities are included in financial liabilities.

iii) Short term lease and leases of low value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases contracts including lease of residential premises and offices (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption to leases of office equipment that are considered to be low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

iv) Single discount rate

The Group has applied the available practical expedient with respect to single discount rate wherein single discount rate is used for portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics.

The Group has given adjustments for lease accounting in accordance with Ind AS 116 from 1 April 2019, and all the related figures have been reclassified/ regrouped to give effect to the requirements of Ind AS 116. The application of Ind AS 116 has resulted into recognition of 'Right-of-Use' asset with a corresponding Lease Liability in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities.

The Group has adopted Ind AS 116 by applying exemption provided under Ind AS 101. Following approach is followed on transition date when applying Ind AS 116 initially:

- a. lease liability is recognized, for leases which were previously classified as operating leases, by measuring the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of initial application.
- b. a right-of-use assets is recognized at an amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to that lease recognized in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities immediately before the date of initial application

2.3.13 Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Trade receivables issued are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

a) Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

A financial asset (except trade receivable and contract asset) is recognised initially at fair value plus or minus transaction cost that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets (other than financial assets at fair value through profit and loss). Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss ('FVTPL') are recognised immediately in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Classification and subsequent measurement

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- FVOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period/year the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Group may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value in other comprehensive income (designated as FVOCI – equity investment). The Group makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Group decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the other comprehensive income ('OCI'). There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Group may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL.

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in following categories:

Financial assets at amortised cost

These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate ('EIR') method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial assets at FVTPL

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest income, are recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Equity investments at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are not reclassified to profit or loss.

Impairment of financial assets

Expected credit loss (ECL) is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR.

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Group applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- (a) Financial assets that are measured at amortized cost e.g., deposits, trade receivables and bank balance
- (b) Financial assets that are measured as at FVTOCI
- (c) Lease receivables under Ind AS 116
- (d) Trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 115

The Group follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on Trade receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Group to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognizes impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Group determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognizing impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial asset. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as expense/income in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss. ECL for financial assets measured as at amortized cost and contractual revenue receivables is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Group does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

The Group does not have any purchased or originated credit impaired (POCI) financial assets, i.e., financial assets which are credit impaired on purchase/ origination.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognized on its restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognized.

b) Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

(i) Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

The Group has not designated any financial liabilities at FVTPL.

(ii) Financial liabilities at amortized cost

After initial recognition, borrowings, trade payables and other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Interest expense is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

c) Reclassification of financial assets and liabilities

The Group determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets.

d) Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities if there is a currently enforceable contractual legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

2.3.14 Fair value measurement

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value at each reporting period.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1: quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted (unadjusted) prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

External valuers are involved for valuation of significant assets and liabilities, if any. At each reporting date, the Group analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Group's accounting policies.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

Above is the summary of accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

2.3.15 Earnings per share

Basic earnings/(loss) per share are calculated by dividing the net profit/(loss) for the period/year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period/year. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period/year is adjusted for events of bonus issue and share split. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings/ (loss) per share, the net profit or loss for the period/year attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period/year are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the equity shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding equity shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period/year, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period/year presented. The number of equity shares and potential dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods/years presented for any share splits and bonus shares issues including for changes effected prior to the approval of the financial information by the Board of Directors.

2.3.16 Segment reporting

The business of the Group falls within a single line of business i.e. business of home healthcare and wellness products. All other activities of the Group revolve around its main business. Hence no separate reportable primary segment.

2.3.17 Restated consolidated statement of cash flows

Restated consolidated statements of cash flows is made using the indirect method, whereby profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature, any deferral accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments and item of income or expense associated with investing or financing of cash flows. The cash flows from operating, financing and investing activities of the Company are segregated.

2.3.18 Significant accounting estimates and judgments

The estimates used in the preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information of each period/year presented are continuously evaluated by the Group and are based on historical experience and various other assumptions and factors (including expectations of future events), that the Group believes to be reasonable under the existing circumstances. The said estimates are based on the facts and events, that existed as at the reporting date, or that occurred after that date but provide additional evidence about conditions existing as at the reporting date. Although the Group regularly assesses these estimates, actual results could differ materially from these estimates - even if the assumptions underlying such estimates were reasonable when made, if these results differ from historical experience or other assumptions do not turn out to be substantially accurate. The changes in estimates are recognized in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information in the period in which they become known.

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Significant judgements

- Allowances for uncollected trade receivables

Trade receivables do not carry interest and are stated at their nominal values as reduced by appropriate allowances for estimated irrecoverable amount are based on ageing of the receivable balances and historical experiences. Individual trade receivables are written off when management deems not be collectible.

- Contingencies

In the normal course of business, contingent liabilities may arise from litigation and other claims against the Group. There are certain obligations which management have concluded based on all available facts and circumstances are not probable of payment or difficult to quantify reliably and such obligations are treated as contingent liabilities and disclosed in notes. Although, there can be no assurance of the final outcome of legal proceedings in which the Group is involved, it is not expected that such contingencies will have material effect on its financial position of probability.

- Impairment of other financial assets

The impairment provision for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Group uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Group's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

- Taxes

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation of complex tax regulations, changes in tax laws, and the amount and timing of future taxable income. Given the nature of business differences arising between the actual results and the assumptions made, or future changes to such assumptions, could necessitate future adjustments to tax income and expense already recorded. The Group establishes current tax payable, based on reasonable estimates. The amount of such current tax payable is based on various factors, such as experience of previous tax audits and differing interpretations of tax regulations by the taxable entity and the responsible tax authority. Such differences of interpretation may arise on a wide variety of issues depending on the conditions prevailing in the respective domicile of the companies.

- Recoverability of deferred taxes

In assessing the recoverability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which the temporary differences become deductible.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilized. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognized, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

- Impairment of non-financial assets

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The fair value less costs of disposal calculation is based on available data from binding sales transactions, conducted at arm's length, for similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. The value in use calculation is based on a Discounted Cash Flow ('DCF') model.

Significant estimates

- Defined benefit plans

The costs of post-retirement benefit obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate; future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

- Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Group reviews the estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. At the end of the current reporting period, the management determined that the useful lives of property, plant and equipment at which they are currently being depreciated represent the correct estimate of the lives and need no change.

- Leases - Estimating the incremental borrowing rate

The Group cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in the lease, therefore, it uses its incremental borrowing rate ('IBR') to measure lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Group would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment.

- Determining the lease term of contracts with renewal and termination options – Group as lessee

The Group determines the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to extend the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised.

The Group has lease contracts that include extension and termination options. The Group applies judgement in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain whether or not to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. That is, it considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise either the renewal or termination. After the commencement date, the Group reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise or not to exercise the option to renew or to terminate (e.g., construction of significant leasehold improvements or significant customization to the leased asset).

- Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the DCF model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

Note 30 - Employee benefits

a. Defined contribution plans

The Group makes contributions, determined as a specified percentage of employee salaries, towards Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance Scheme ('ESI') which are collectively defined as defined contribution plans. The Group has no obligations other than to make the specified contributions. The contributions are charged to the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as they accrue. The amount recognized as an expense towards contribution to Provident Fund and ESI are as follows:

Contribution to provident and other funds (refer note 23)	0.21	0.72	0.36	0.10

b. Defined benefit plans

Gratuity

The gratuity plan is governed by the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Under the Act, employees who have completed five years of service are entitled to specific benefit. The level of benefit provided depends on the member's length of service and salary retirement age. The employee is entitled to a benefit equivalent to 15 days salary last drawn for each completed year of service. The same is payable on termination of service or retirement or death whichever is earlier.

The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plan is determined based on an actuarial valuation as at the reporting date using the projected unit credit method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligations are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rate used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plans is based on the market yields on government bonds as at the date of actuarial valuation. Actuarial gains and losses (net of tax) are recognised immediately in the Other Comprehensive Income (OCI).

This is an unfunded benefit plan for qualifying employees. This scheme provides for a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment. Vesting occurs upon completion of five years of service.

The above defined benefit plan exposes the Group to following risks:

Interest rate risk:

The defined benefit obligation calculated uses a discount rate based on government bonds. If bond yields fall, the defined benefit obligation will tend to increase.

Salary inflation risk:

Higher than expected increases in salary will increase the defined benefit obligation.

Demographic risk:

This is the risk of variability of results due to unsystematic nature of decrements that include mortality, withdrawal, disability and retirement. The effect of these decrements on the defined benefit obligation is not straight forward and depends upon the combination of salary increase, discount rate and vesting criteria.

Annexure VI : Notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information
(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

The following table sets out the status of the defined benefit plan as required under Ind AS 19 - Employee Benefits:

	(0.01)	0.06	0.00	(0.00)

iv. Actuarial assumptions

(i) Economic assumptions

The principal assumptions are the discount rate and salary growth rate. The discount rate is generally based upon the market yield available on the Government bonds at the accounting date with a term that matches that of the liabilities and the salary growth rate takes account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors on long term basis.

	As at 30 September 2020	As at 31 March 2020	As at 31 March 2019 (Proforma)	As at 31 March 2018 (Proforma)
Discount rate (per annum)	6.8%	6.6%	7.4%	7.7%
Future salary growth rate (per annum)	15%	10%	10%	10%
Expected average remaining working lives (years)	28.22	28.94	29.75	31.37

(ii) Demographic assumptions

	As at 30 September 2020	As at 31 March 2020	As at 31 March 2019 (Proforma)	As at 31 March 2018 (Proforma)
Retirement age (years)	58	58	58	58
Mortality rate	100% of IALM 2012- 14	100% of IALM 2012- 14	100% of IALM 2006-08	100% of IALM 2006-08
Attrition rate (per annum)	10%	15%	15%	15%

v. Sensitivity analysis on defined benefit obligation on account of change in significant assumption:

	For the period 1 April 2020 to 30 September 2020	For the year ended 31 March 2020	For the year ended 31 March 2019 (Proforma)	For the year ended 31 March 2018 (Proforma)
Increase
Discount rate (1% movement)	(0.33)	(0.06)	(0.01)	(0.00)
Future salary growth rate (1% movement)	0.25	0.07	0.01	0.00
Decrease
Discount rate (1% movement)	0.39	0.07	0.01	0.00
Future salary growth rate (1% movement)	(0.24)	(0.07)	(0.01)	(0.00)

The above sensitivity analysis are based on a change in an assumption while holding all other assumptions constant. In practice, this is unlikely to occur, and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same methods (present value of defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) have been applied, as when calculating the defined benefit liability recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the prior period.

vi. Expected maturity analysis of the defined benefit plan in future years

	As at 30 September 2020	As at 31 March 2020	As at 31 March 2019 (Proforma)	As at 31 March 2018 (Proforma)
Within 1 year (next annual reporting period)	0.01	0.00	-	-
Between 1 to 5 years	0.56	0.17	0.03	0.01
Between 5 to 10 years	1.27	0.46	0.09	0.02
Beyond 10 years	6.14	0.83	0.00	0.05
Total expected payments	7.98	1.46	0.12	0.08

vii. Weighted average duration of the defined benefit plan:

Note 34 - Financial risk management

Risk management framework

The Group's senior management is responsible to ensure that Group's financial risk activities which are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Group's policies and risk objectives. The board of directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below.

(i) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises interest rate risk and currency risk financial instruments affected by market risk include trade receivables, borrowings and investments measured at fair value through profit and loss account. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control market risk exposures within acceptable parameters while optimising the return.

(a) Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flow of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of change in market interest rates. The Group does not expose to the risk of changes in market interest rates as Group's long and short term debt obligations are of fixed interest rate.

(b) Currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Group's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to its operating activities (when certain purchases and trade payables are denominated in a foreign currency).

The Group undertakes transactions denominated in foreign currencies and consequently, exposes to exchange rate fluctuations. The Group does not enter into trade financial instruments including derivative financial instruments for hedging its foreign currency risk. The appropriateness of the risk policy is reviewed periodically with reference to the approved foreign currency risk management policy followed by the Group.

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% increase and decrease in the INR against relevant foreign currencies. 5% is the rate used in order to determine the sensitivity analysis considering the past trends and expectations of the management for changes in the foreign currency exchange rate. The sensitivity analysis includes the outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjust their transaction at the period/year end for 5% change in foreign currency rates. A positive number below indicates a increase in profit or equity where the INR strengthens 5% against the relevant currency. For a 5% weakening of the INR against the relevant currency, there would be a comparable impact on the profit or equity balance below would be negative. This analysis is performed on foreign currency denominated monetary financial assets and financial liabilities outstanding as at the period/year end. (ii) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Group is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks. Management has a credit policy in place and the exposure to credit risk is monitored on an ongoing basis. Credit evaluations are performed on all customers requiring credit over a certain amount.

(a) Trade receivables

Customer credit risk is managed as per the Group's established policy, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. Credit quality of a customer is assessed based on an extensive credit rating scorecard and individual credit limits are defined in accordance with this assessment. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored.

Based on internal assessment which is driven by the historical experience/current facts available in relation to default and delays in collection thereof, the credit risk for trade receivables is considered low. The Group estimates its allowance for trade receivable using lifetime expected credit loss. Individual receivables which are known to be uncollectible are written off by reducing the carrying amount of trade receivable and the amount of the loss is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss within other expenses.

The ageing of trade receivables at the reporting date was:

	As at 30 September 2020	As at 31 March 2020	As at 31 March 2019 (Proforma)	As at 31 March 2018 (Proforma)

(b) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents of the Group are held with banks which have high credit rating. The Group considers that its cash and cash equivalents have low credit risk based on the external credit ratings of the counterparties.

(c) Security deposits

The Group furnished security deposits to its lessor for obtaining the premises on lease and margin money deposits to banks. The Group considers that its deposits have low credit risk or negligible risk of default as the parties are well established entities and have strong capacity to meet the obligations. Also, where the Group expects that there is an uncertainty in the recovery of deposit, it provides for suitable impairment on the same.

(iii) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group may not be able to meet its present and future cash and collateral obligations without incurring unacceptable losses. The Group's objective is to, at all times maintain optimum levels of liquidity to meet its cash and collateral requirements. The Group closely monitors its liquidity position and deploys a robust cash management system. It maintains adequate sources of financing including loans from banks at an optimised cost.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Group's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments:

(iv) Excessive risk concentration

Concentrations arise when a number of counterparties are engaged in similar business activities, or activities in the same geographical region, or have economic features that would cause their ability to meet contractual obligations to be similarly affected by changes in economic, political or other conditions. Concentrations indicate the relative sensitivity of the Group's performance to developments affecting a particular industry. In order to avoid excessive concentrations of risk, the Group's policies and procedures include specific guidelines to focus on the maintenance of a diversified portfolio. Identified concentrations of credit risks are controlled and managed accordingly.

(v) Risk related to COVID-19

The Group has considered possible effect that may result from pandemic relating to COVID-19 on the carrying amount of property, plant and equipment, inventories, receivables, other current assets and on its assessment relating to going concern. In developing the assumptions relating to the possible future uncertainties in the global economic conditions because of this pandemic, the Group as at the date of approval of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information has used internal and external sources on the expected future performance of the Group, including the Group's performance from July 2020 onwards which has been better than expectations considering the increase in demand in the home healthcare and wellness products. The Group has performed sensitivity analysis on the assumptions used and based on current estimates expects the carrying amount of these assets will be recovered with no consequential impacts on its assessment related to going concern. The impact of Covid - 19 on the Group's Restated Consolidated Financial Information may differ from that estimated as at the date of approval of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.

Note 35 - Capital management

For the purpose of the Group's capital management, capital includes issued equity share capital, and all other equity reserves attributable to the equity holders of the Group. The primary objective of the Group's capital management is to maximize the shareholder's value.

The Group manages its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions, business strategies and future commitments. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares. The Group monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is net debt divided by total capital plus net debt. The Group includes within net debt, trade payables and borrowings, less cash and cash equivalents.

Note 39 - First time adoption

The restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities of the Group as at 30 September 2020 and the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss, the restated consolidated statement of changes in equity and the restated consolidated statement of cash flows for the period ended 30 September 2020 and restated other financial information has been prepared under Indian Accounting Standards ('Ind AS') notified under Section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended by Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2016 and other relevant provisions of the Act, to the extent applicable.

The restated consolidated financial information for the years ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018 has been prepared on Proforma basis (i.e. "the Proforma Ind AS Restated Consolidated Financial Information") in accordance with requirements of SEBI Circular and Guidance Note. For the purpose of Proforma Ind AS Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the years ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018, the Group has followed the same accounting policy and accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. 1 April 2019. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments (both re-measurements and reclassifications) in the accounting heads are made to the Proforma Ind AS Restated Consolidated Financial Information as of and for the years ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018 following accounting policies and accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions) consistent with that used at the date of transition to Ind AS (i.e. 1 April 2019).

In addition to the adjustments carried herein, the Group has also made material restatement adjustments in accordance with SEBI Circular and Guidance Note (refer Annexure VII). Together these constitute the restated consolidated financial information.

Exemptions applied:

1 Mandatory exceptions:

a) Estimates

On assessment of the estimates made under the previous GAAP financial statements, the Group has concluded that there is no necessity to revise the estimates under Ind AS, as there is no objective evidence of an error in those estimates. However, estimates that were required under Ind AS but not required under previous GAAP are made by the Group for the relevant reporting dates reflecting conditions existing as at that date. Key estimates considered in preparation of financial statements that were not required under the previous GAAP are listed below:

- Fair valuation of financial instruments carried at FVTPL.
- Determination of the discounted value for financial instruments carried at amortised cost.
- Impairment of financial assets based on the expected credit loss model.

b) Classification and measurement of financial assets:

Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess classification of financial assets on the basis of facts and circumstances existing as at the date of transition. Further, the standard permits measurement of financial assets accounted at amortised cost based on facts and circumstances existing at the date of transition if retrospective application is impracticable. Accordingly, the Group has determined the classification of financial assets based on facts and circumstances that exist on the date of transition. Measurement of financial assets accounted at amortised cost has been done retrospectively except where the same is impracticable.

2 Optional exemptions:

a) Deemed cost for property, plant and equipment

Ind AS 101 permits a first-time adopter to elect to continue with the carrying value for all of its property, plant and equipment as recognised in the financial statement as at the date of transition to Ind AS, measured as per previous GAAP and used that as its deemed cost as at the date of transition after making necessary adjustment for decommissioning liabilities. Accordingly, the Group has elected to measure all of its property, plant and equipment at their previous GAAP carrying value as at transition date 1 April 2019. For the purpose of Proforma consolidated Ind AS financial information for the year ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018, the Group has provided the depreciation based on the estimated useful life of respective years.

b) Leases

The Group has adopted Ind AS 116 by applying exemption provided under Ind AS 101. Following approach is followed on transition date (1 April 2019) when applying Ind AS 116 initially:

- i) lease liability is recognised, for leases which were previously classified as operating leases, by measuring the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of initial application.
 - ii) a right-of-use assets is recognised at an amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to that lease recognised in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities immediately before the date of initial application.
- The Group also applied the available practical expedients wherein it:
- a) Used a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics
 - b) Applied the short-term leases exemptions to leases with lease term that ends within 12 months at the date of initial application
 - c) Excluded the initial direct costs from the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application

IV. Impact of Ind AS adoption on the Restated Statement of Cash Flows

There were no material differences between the restated summary statement of cash flows and cash flow statement under previous GAAP (as adjusted for the impact of the arrangement).

V. Notes to first time adoption

a Leases

Under previous GAAP, lessee classified a lease as an operating or a finance lease based on whether or not the lease transferred substantially all risk and rewards incident to the ownership of an asset. Operating lease were expensed in the statement of profit and loss. Under Ind AS 116, all arrangement that fall under the definition of lease except those for which short-term lease exemption or low value exemption is applied, the Group has recognised a right-of-use assets and a lease liability on the lease commencement date. Right-of-use assets is amortised over the lease term on a straight line basis and lease liability is measured at amortised cost at the present value of future lease payments.

The impact arising from the change is as follows:

b Financial assets measured at amortised cost

Under previous GAAP, the security deposits paid for lease rent are shown at the transaction value. Whereas under Ind AS, the same are initially discounted and subsequently recorded at amortized cost at the end of every financial reporting period/year. Accordingly, the difference between the transaction and discounted value of the security deposits paid is recognized as right-of-use assets and is amortized over the period of the lease term. Further, interest is accreted on the present value of the security deposits paid for lease rent.

The impact arising from the change is as follows:

Restated Statement of Profit and Loss	Increase/ (decrease)

c Business combination (common control transaction)

The Group has taken the effect of demerger as per the scheme of arrangement ('Scheme') among Nectar Biopharma Private Limited (demerged company) and Nureca Private Limited (resulting company) and their respective shareholders and creditors under section 230 to 232 and other applicable provisions of the Companies Act 2013, which has been sanctioned by the Honourable National Company Law Tribunal, Mumbai vide its order dated 29 April 2020.

The Scheme has become effective on 23 May 2020 ("Effective date") on filing of certified copy of the order with the Registrar of Companies. The appointed date from which the Scheme is operative 1 April 2019 (the "appointed date") and accordingly the effect was previously considered in the financial statements prepared under the previous GAAP for the year ended 31 March 2020.

Nureca Limited
Annexure VI : Notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information
(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

The said demerger has been accounted as a common control business combination in line with the principles prescribed under Ind AS 103 "Business Combinations". Accordingly, the Scheme has been given effect by combining all assets and liabilities of the transferor companies with the assets and liabilities of the transferee company at their carrying amounts and preserving the identity of the reserves in the same form as they appeared in the financial statements of the transferor companies. The financial information in the financial statements in respect of prior periods has been restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the financial statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination.

d Right to return

Under Ind AS 115, a refund liability for the expected refunds to customers is recognised as adjustment to revenue as refund liability in other current liabilities. At the same time, the Group has a right to recover the product from the customer where the customer exercises his right to return and recognises an asset and a corresponding adjustment to changes in inventories. The asset is measured in reference to the former carrying amount of the product. The costs to recover the products are not material because the customer usually returns the product in a saleable condition.

e Remeasurements of the defined benefit plans reclassified to OCI

Under Previous GAAP, the Company recognised remeasurement of defined benefit plans under Statement of Profit and Loss. Under Ind AS, remeasurement of defined benefit plans are recognised immediately in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI.

f Items reclassified to OCI

Under Ind AS, all items of income and expense recognised in a period should be included in profit or loss for the period, unless a standard requires or permits otherwise. Items of income and expense that are not recognised in profit or loss but are shown in the statement of profit and loss as 'other comprehensive income' includes change in fair value of investments which are classified at fair value through OCI. Remeasurements of defined benefit obligation and exchange differences on translation of foreign operations. The concept of other comprehensive income did not exist under previous GAAP.

g Deferred tax assets (net)

Under Previous GAAP, deferred taxes were recognized for the tax effect of timing differences between accounting profit and taxable profit for the year using the income statement approach. Under Ind AS, deferred taxes are recognized using the balance sheet for future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying value of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. The above difference, together with the consequential tax impact of the other Ind AS transitional adjustments lead to temporary differences. Deferred tax adjustments are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in retained earnings or through other comprehensive income.

The impact arising from the change is as follows:

Restated Statement of Profit and Loss	Increase/ (decrease)

$$\text{Basic earning per share} = \frac{\text{Net profit as restated, attributable to equity shareholders}}{\text{Weighted average number of equity shares}}$$

$$\text{Diluted earning per share} = \frac{\text{Net profit as restated, attributable to equity shareholders}}{\text{Weighted average number of diluted equity shares}}$$

$$\text{Return on net worth (\%)} = \frac{\text{Net profit after tax, as restated}}{\text{Restated Net Worth}}$$

$$\text{Net assets value per share (INR)} = \frac{\text{Net worth as restated at the end of the year}}{\text{Number of equity shares outstanding at the end of the period/year}}$$

2. Weighted average number of equity shares is the number of equity shares outstanding at the beginning of the period adjusted by the number of equity shares issued during the year multiplied by the time weighting factor. The time weighting factor is the number of days for which the specific shares are outstanding as a proportion of total number of days during the year. The number of equity shares and potential dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented for any share splits and bonus shares issues including for changes effected prior to the approval of the financial statements by the Board of Directors.

3. Net Worth = Equity share capital + Other Equity (including Securities Premium and Surplus/ (Deficit))

4. The above ratios have been computed on the basis of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

5. The above have been computed on the basis of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information and the issue and allotment of fully paid-up bonus shares at par in proportion of six new equity share of INR 10 each for every one existing fully paid up equity share of INR 10 each held as on the record date of 02 September 2020.

RECENT DEVELOPMENT

Impact of COVID-19

In response to the COVID-19 outbreak, the governments of many countries, including India have taken preventive or protective actions, such as imposing country-wide lockdowns, restrictions on domestic and international travel and business operations and advising or requiring individuals to limit their time outside of their homes. The steps taken to counter the effects of the pandemic have resulted in a period of economic downturn and business disruption in India. The impacts from the severe disruptions caused by the effective shutdown of large segments of the global economy remain unknown and no prediction can be made of when any of the restrictions currently in place will be relaxed or expire, or whether or when further restrictions will be announced.

Because of a government mandated lockdown in India it has caused disruptions in the business in terms of shortage of manpower, delayed shipments, increased freight, rise in raw material costs, delay in sales realisations etc. Despite this, our business and operations have continued to run effectively due to the general awareness about the healthcare products in which our Company operates pursuant to COVID-19. Though our business has been affected during the initial days of lockdown, we have not faced any material impact on the business of our Company. For further information, see “Business – Business Response to COVID-19” on page 103.

However, the outbreak, or threatened outbreak, of any severe communicable disease (particularly COVID-19) could materially adversely affect overall business sentiment and environment, particularly if such outbreak is inadequately controlled. The spread of any severe communicable disease may also adversely affect the operations of our vendors and service providers, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Also see “Risk Factors - Our business has been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and may continue to affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 25. The extent to which the COVID-19 further impacts our results will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of the coronavirus and the actions taken globally to contain the coronavirus or treat its impact, among others. We are still assessing our business operations and system supports and the impact COVID-19 may have on our results and financial condition, but there can be no assurance that this analysis will enable us to avoid part or all of any impact from the spread of COVID-19 or its consequences, including downturns in business sentiment generally or in our sector in particular.

Investment in Wholly owned subsidiaries

During the period after June 30, 2020, two companies namely, Nureca Technologies Private Limited and Nureca Healthcare Private Limited were incorporated as wholly owned subsidiaries of Nureca. For further details, please see “History and Other Corporate Matters” on page 120.

FACTORS AFFECTING THE RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION

Sales volume and demand of our products

Our revenue and profit margins are directly impacted by our sales volume of our products and by demand of the same from our customers. Majority of our revenue from operations is from sales of our healthcare products. The fluctuation in demand for our products may either require us to increase our inventories and production or decrease our inventories and production at short notice, which may result in us bearing additional costs and incurring losses. We must continue to generate demand for our products from our customers to drive growth in the future, and our results of operations will depend in part on the degree to which these efforts are successful.

Our investments in new products and distribution channels may not be profitable and may be loss-making

In order to maintain a competitive position, we continue to invest in new home healthcare products. Our investments in new products or distribution channels, such as e-commerce and delivery platforms, whether developed in-house or through third parties, may be less profitable than what we have experienced historically, may be loss-making, may consume substantial financial resources and/or may divert management’s attention from existing operations, all of which could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Changes in Technology

Modernization and technology upgradation is essential for the products that we sell to our customers. Being technology driven enables us to gain a deep understanding of the market trends in the home healthcare industry. The landscape of the home healthcare industry continues to change in response to technological innovation and evolving consumer trends. New technology are changing the very definition of healthcare device industry. However if we are unable to respond to changes in technology and evolving industry trends, our businesses may not be able to compete effectively.

Dependence on third parties for distribution of our products

We are dependent on third parties in relation to our distribution and sales. All our products are distributed and sold through our own website, third party e-commerce platforms and other channels of retail, over which we have limited control. We constantly seek to grow our product reach to under-penetrated geographies, increase the penetration of our products in markets in which we are currently present and widen the portfolio of our products available in those markets by growing our distribution network. Our success is dependent on our ability to successfully tie up with a good e-commerce platform or appoint new distributors to expand our network and effectively manage our existing distribution network. Further, we may also face disruptions in the delivery of our products for reasons beyond our control, including poor handling of our products, transportation bottlenecks, natural disasters and labour issues, which could lead to delayed or lost deliveries.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

A summary of the significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information are as given below. These accounting policies have been applied consistently to all periods/years presented in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.

3.1. Current vs non-current classification

The Group presents assets and liabilities in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities based on current/ non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

The Group classifies all other assets as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

The Group classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents. The Group has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

3.2. Business combination

Ind AS 103, Business Combinations, prescribes significantly different accounting for business combinations which are not under common control and those under common control.

Business combinations involving entities or businesses under common control shall be accounted for using the pooling of interest method.

The pooling of interest method is considered to involve the following:

- a. The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts.
- b. No adjustments are made to reflect fair values, or recognise any new assets or liabilities. The only adjustments that are made are to harmonise accounting policies.
- c. The financial information in respect of prior periods should be restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information, irrespective of the actual date of the business combination.
- d. The identity of the reserves has been preserved and appear in the financial information of the transferee in the same form in which they appeared in the financial information of the transferor.
- e. The difference, if any, between the consideration and the amount of share capital of the acquired entity is transferred to capital reserve.

3.3. Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and Initial Measurement

Property, plant and equipment is recognized when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of each item can be measured reliably. Property, plant and equipment are initially stated at their cost.

Cost of asset includes:

- a. Purchase price, net of any trade discount and rebates
- b. Cost directly attributable to the acquisition of the assets which incurred in bringing asset to its working condition for the intended use
- c. Present value of the estimated costs of dismantling & removing the items & restoring the site on which it is located if recognition criteria are met.

Subsequent measurement

Property, plant and equipment are subsequently measured at cost net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditure is capitalized if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group and cost of the expenditure can be measured reliably.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has elected to continue with the carrying value of all the items of property, plant and equipment recognized as at 1 April 2019, measured as per the previous GAAP, and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of such property, plant and equipment. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. 1 April 2019 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Ind AS Financial Information for the years ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018. Also, refer note 39 of Annexure VI.

Depreciation and useful lives

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on straight line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets as specified in schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Particulars	Management estimated useful life	Useful life as per Schedule II
Computers	3 years	3 years
Office Equipment	5 years	5 years
Furniture and Fixtures	10 year	10 years

Depreciation on additions to/deductions from property, plant and equipment during the period is charged on pro-rata basis from/up to the date on which the asset is available for use/disposed

Each part of an item of property, plant and equipment is depreciated separately if the cost of part is significant in relation to the total cost of the item and useful life of that part is different from the useful life of remaining asset.

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Derecognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognized is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

3.4. Impairment of non-financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group assesses, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Group estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount and the impairment loss, including impairment on inventories are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

For assets excluding goodwill, an assessment is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognized impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the Group estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior period. Such reversal is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

3.5. Inventories

- a. Inventories (which comprise traded goods) are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on First in First out (FIFO) basis.
- b. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The comparison of cost and net realisable value is made on an item-by-item basis.

3.6. Revenue recognition

The specific recognition criteria described below must also be met before revenue is recognized.

a. Sale of products

Revenue from sale of products is recognized at the point in time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer at the time of shipment to or receipt of goods by the customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services.

The Group has concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements as it typically controls the goods or services before transferring them to the customer.

If the consideration in a contract includes a variable amount, the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for transferring the goods to the customer. The variable consideration is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant revenue reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the associated uncertainty with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

The goods and service tax (GST) is not received by the Group on its own account. Rather, it is tax collected on behalf of the government. Accordingly, it is excluded from revenue.

b. Contract balances

- Contract assets: A contract asset is the right to consideration in exchange for goods or services transferred to the customer. If the Group performs by transferring goods or services to a customer before the customer pays consideration or before payment is due, a contract asset is recognized for the earned consideration that is conditional.

- Trade receivables: A receivable represents the Group's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due).
- Contract liabilities: A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Group transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognised when the payment is made, or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Group performs under the contract.

c. Right of return

Group provides a customer with a right to return in case of any defects or on grounds of quality. The Group uses the expected value method to estimate the goods that will not be returned because this method best predicts the amount of variable consideration to which the Group will be entitled. The requirements in Ind AS 115 on constraining estimates of variable consideration are also applied in order to determine the amount of variable consideration that can be included in the transaction price. For goods that are expected to be returned, instead of revenue, the Group recognizes a refund liability. A right of return asset and corresponding adjustment to change in inventory is also recognized for the right to recover products from a customer.

The Group has adopted Ind AS 115 from 1 April 2019 using the modified retrospective approach by applying Ind AS 115 to all the contracts that are not completed on 1 April 2019. The application of Ind AS 115 did not have any material impact on recognition and measurement principles. However, it results in additional presentation and disclosure requirements for the Group. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. 1 April 2019 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Ind AS Financial Information for the years ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018.

The Group has also applied the practical expedient under Ind AS 115 for incremental cost of obtaining a contract and has recognized such cost as an expense when incurred if the amortization period of the asset is one year or less.

3.7. Taxes

a. Current Tax

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities in accordance with relevant tax regulations. Current tax is determined as the tax payable in respect of taxable income for the period/year and is computed in accordance with relevant tax regulations. Current tax is recognized in restated consolidated statement of profit and loss except to the extent it relates to items recognized outside profit or loss in which case it is recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income ('OCI') or in equity). Current tax items are recognized in relation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes current tax payable where appropriate.

Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

b. Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax is recognized in restated consolidated statement of profit and loss except to the extent it relates to items recognized outside profit or loss, in which case is recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

3.8. Foreign currencies

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the functional currency, by applying the exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

Foreign currency monetary items outstanding at the reporting date are converted to functional currency using the closing rate (Closing selling rates for liabilities and closing buying rate for assets). Non-monetary items denominated in a foreign currency which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transactions.

Exchange differences arising on settlement of monetary items, or restatement as at reporting date, at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period in which they arise. These exchange differences are presented in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss on net basis.

3.9. Employee benefit

a. Short-term employee benefits

Employee benefits such as salaries, short term compensated absences, and other benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits and undiscounted amount of such benefits are expensed in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period in which the employee renders the related services.

b. Post-employment benefits

- Defined Contribution Plan: A defined contribution plan is a plan under which the Group pays fixed contributions into a separate entity and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further amounts.

The Group makes specified monthly contribution to the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner towards provident fund and employee state insurance scheme ('ESI') which is a defined contribution plan. The Group's contribution is recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss during the period in which the employee renders the related service.

- Defined Benefit Plan: A defined benefit plan is a post-employment benefit plan other than a defined contribution plan. Under such plans, the obligation for any benefits remains with the Group. The Group's liability towards gratuity is in the nature of defined benefit plan.

The Group has an obligation towards gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan covering eligible employees. The plan provides for a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment. Vesting occurs upon completion of five years of service.

The liability in respect of gratuity is accrued in the books of accounts on the basis of actuarial valuation carried out by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

The Group's net obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows using a discount rate based on the market yield on government securities of a maturity period equivalent to the weighted average maturity profile of the defined benefit obligations at each reporting date.

Re-measurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, is recognized in other comprehensive income and is reflected in retained earnings and the same is not eligible to be reclassified to restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Defined benefit costs comprising current service cost, past service cost, interest cost and gains or losses on settlements are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss as employee benefits expense. Gains or losses on settlement of any defined benefit plan are recognized when the settlement occurs. Past service cost is recognized as expense at the earlier of the plan amendment or curtailment and when the Group recognizes related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

c. Other long-term employee benefits

Benefits under the Group's compensated absences constitute other long-term employee benefits, recognized as an expense in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss for the period in which the employee has rendered services. The obligation recognized in respect of these long-term benefits is measured at present value of the obligation based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit credit method.

Long term employee benefit costs comprising current service cost, interest cost and gains or losses on curtailments and settlements, re-measurements including actuarial gains and losses are recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss as employee benefit expenses.

Certain employees were transferred from Nectar Biopharma Private Limited pursuant to the scheme of arrangement, approved by NCLT on 29 April 2020 (also refer note 36). The process of completing the formalities pertaining to transfer of such employees has been fully completed on 01 September 2020.

3.10. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent include cash on hand, cash at banks and short-term deposits with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

For the purpose of the restated consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of unrestricted cash and short-term deposits, as defined above as they are considered an integral part of the Group's cash management.

3.11. Provisions, contingent assets and contingent liabilities

a. Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, considering the risk and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

b. Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation or present obligations that may but probably will not, require an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or the amount of such obligation cannot be measured reliably. When there is possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which likelihood of outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

These are reviewed at each financial reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

c. Contingent assets

Contingent assets are not recognized though are disclosed, where an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

3.12. Leases

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period in exchange for consideration.

a. Group as a lessee

The Group applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The Group recognizes lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

i) Right-of-use assets

The Group recognizes right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any re-measurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognized, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets.

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the Group at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

ii) Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognizes lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognized as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is re-measured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

The Group's lease liabilities are included in financial liabilities

iii) Short term lease and leases of low value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases contracts including lease of residential premises and offices (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption to leases of office equipment that are considered to be low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

iv) Single discount rate

The Group has applied the available practical expedient with respect to single discount rate wherein single discount rate is used for portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics.

The Group has given adjustments for lease accounting in accordance with Ind AS 116 from 1 April 2019, and all the related figures have been reclassified/ regrouped to give effect to the requirements of Ind AS 116. The application of Ind AS 116 has resulted into recognition of 'Right-of-Use' asset with a corresponding Lease Liability in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities.

The Group has adopted Ind AS 116 by applying exemption provided under Ind AS 101. Following approach is followed on transition date when applying Ind AS 116 initially:

- a. lease liability is recognized, for leases which were previously classified as operating leases, by measuring the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of initial application.
- b. a right of use assets is recognized at an amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to that lease recognized in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities immediately before the date of initial application

3.13. Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Trade receivables issued are initially recognized when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognized when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

a. Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

A financial asset (except trade receivable and contract asset) is recognized initially at fair value plus or minus transaction cost that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets (other than financial assets at fair value through profit and loss). Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss ('FVTPL') are recognized immediately in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Classification and subsequent measurement

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- FVOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period/year the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Group may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value in other comprehensive income (designated as FVOCI – equity investment). The Group makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Group decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the other comprehensive income ('OCI'). There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, even on sale of investment.

However, the Group may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL.

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in following categories:

Financial assets at amortised cost

These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate ('EIR') method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial assets at FVTPL

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest income, are recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Equity investments at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are not reclassified to profit or loss.

Impairment of financial assets

Expected credit loss (ECL) is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR.

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Group applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- a. Financial assets that are measured at amortized cost e.g., deposits, trade receivables and bank balance.
- b. Financial assets that are measured as at FVTOCI
- c. Lease receivables under Ind AS 116
- d. Trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 115

The Group follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on Trade receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Group to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognizes impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Group determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognizing impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial asset. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss. ECL for financial assets measured as at amortized cost and contractual revenue receivables is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Group does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount

The Group does not have any purchased or originated credit impaired (POCI) financial assets, i.e., financial assets which are credit impaired on purchase/ origination.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognized on its restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognized

b. Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

(i) Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

The Group has not designated any financial liabilities at FVTPL.

(ii) Financial liabilities at amortized cost

After initial recognition, Loans, borrowings, trade payables and other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Interest expense is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss.

c. Reclassification of financial assets

The Group determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets.

d. Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities if there is a currently enforceable contractual legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

3.14. Fair value measurement

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value at each reporting period.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1: Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

External valuers are involved for valuation of significant assets and liabilities, if any. At each reporting date, the Group analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Group's accounting policies.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

Above is the summary of accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

3.15. Earnings per share

Basic earnings/(loss) per share are calculated by dividing the net profit/(loss) for the period/year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period/year. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period/year is adjusted for events of bonus issue and share split. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings/ (loss) per share, the net profit or loss for the period/year attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period/year are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the equity shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding equity shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period/year, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period/year presented. The number of equity shares and potential dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods/years presented for any share splits and bonus shares issues including for changes effected prior to the approval of the financial information by the Board of Directors.

3.16. Segment reporting

The business of the Group falls within a single line of business i.e. business of home healthcare and wellness products. All other activities of the Group revolve around its main business. Hence no separate reportable primary segment.

3.17. Restated consolidated statement of cash flows

Restated consolidated statements of cash flows is made using the indirect method, whereby profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature, any deferral accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments and item of income or expense associated with investing or financing of cash flows. The cash flows from operating, financing and investing activities of the Company are segregated.

3.18. Significant accounting estimates and judgments

The estimates used in the preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information of each period/year presented are continuously evaluated by the Group and are based on historical experience and various other assumptions and factors (including expectations of future events), that the Group believes to be reasonable under the existing circumstances. The said estimates are based on the facts and events, that existed as at the reporting date, or that occurred after that date but provide additional evidence about conditions existing as at the reporting date. Although the Group regularly assesses these estimates, actual results could differ materially from these estimates - even if the assumptions underlying such estimates were reasonable when made, if these results differ from historical experience or other assumptions do not turn out to be substantially accurate. The changes in estimates are recognized in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information in the period in which they become known.

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Significant judgements

- Allowances for uncollected trade receivables

Trade receivables do not carry interest and are stated at their nominal values as reduced by appropriate allowances for estimated irrecoverable amount are based on ageing of the receivable balances and historical experiences. Individual trade receivables are written off when management deems not be collectible.

- Contingencies

In the normal course of business, contingent liabilities may arise from litigation and other claims against the Group. There are certain obligations which management have concluded based on all available facts and circumstances are not probable of payment or difficult to quantify reliably and such obligations are treated as contingent liabilities and disclosed in notes. Although, there can be no assurance of the final outcome of legal proceedings in which the Group is involved, it is not expected that such contingencies will have material effect on its financial position of probability.

- Impairment of other financial assets

The impairment provision for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Group uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Group's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

- Taxes

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation of complex tax regulations, changes in tax laws, and the amount and timing of future taxable income. Given the nature of business differences arising between the actual results and the assumptions made, or future changes to such assumptions, could necessitate future adjustments to tax income and expense already recorded. The Group establishes current tax payable, based on reasonable estimates. The amount of such current tax payable is based on various factors, such as experience of previous tax audits and differing interpretations of tax regulations by the taxable entity and the responsible tax authority. Such differences of interpretation may arise on a wide variety of issues depending on the conditions prevailing in the respective domicile of the companies.

- Recoverability of deferred taxes

In assessing the recoverability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which the temporary differences become deductible.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilized. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognized, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

- Impairment of non financial assets

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The fair value less costs of disposal calculation is based on available data from binding sales transactions, conducted at arm's length, for similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. The value in use calculation is based on a Discounted Cash Flow ('DCF') model.

Significant estimates

- Defined benefit plans

The costs of post-retirement benefit obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate; future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

- Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Group reviews the estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. At the end of the current reporting period, the management determined that the useful lives of property, plant and equipment at which they are currently being depreciated represent the correct estimate of the lives and need no change.

- Leases - Estimating the incremental borrowing rate

The Group cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in the lease, therefore, it uses its incremental borrowing rate ('IBR') to measure lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Group would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment.

- Determining the lease term of contracts with renewal and termination options – Group as lessee

The Group determines the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to extend the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised.

The Group has lease contracts that include extension and termination options. The Group applies judgement in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain whether or not to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. That is, it considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise either the renewal or termination. After the commencement date, the Group reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise or not to exercise the option to renew or to terminate (e.g., construction of significant leasehold improvements or significant customization to the leased asset).

- Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the DCF model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

In case of revision in the Price Band or in case of force majeure, banking strike or similar circumstances, the Bid/ Issue Period shall be extended for at least three additional Working Days after such revision, subject to the Bid/ Issue Period not exceeding 10 Working Days. Any revision in Price Band, and the revised Bid/ Issue Period, if applicable, shall be widely disseminated by notification to the Stock Exchanges, by issuing a public notice and also by indicating the change on the terminals of the Syndicate Members. However, in case of revision in the Price Band, the Bid Lot shall remain the same.

The UPI Mechanism for Retail Individual Bidders applying through Designated Intermediaries, in phase I, was effective along with the prior process and existing timeline of T+6 days (“UPI Phase I”), until June 30, 2019. Phased Implementation of Unified Payments Interface

Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RIB had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/ her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 1, 2019. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form without UPI by RIBs to Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) for blocking of funds will be discontinued. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days during this phase. SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019 extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II till March 31, 2020. Further, pursuant to SEBI circular dated March 30, 2020, this phase has been extended till further notice.

Phase III: The commencement period of Phase III is yet to be notified. In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would be reduced to three Working Days.

All SCSBs offering the facility of making applications in public issues are required to provide the facility to make application using UPI. Information for Bidders

The relevant Designated Intermediary will enter each Bid option into the electronic Bidding system as a separate Bid and generate an acknowledgement slip (Acknowledgement Slip), for each price and demand option and give the same to the Bidder. Therefore, a Bidder can receive up to three Acknowledgement Slips for each Bid cum Application Form. It is the Bidder's responsibility to obtain the Acknowledgment Slip from the relevant Designated Intermediary. The registration of the Bid by the Designated Intermediary does not guarantee that the Equity Shares shall be allocated/Allotted. Such Acknowledgement Slip will be non-negotiable and by itself will not create any obligation of any kind. When a Bidder revises his or her Bid, he /she shall surrender the earlier Acknowledgement Slip and may request for a revised Acknowledgment Slip from the relevant Designated Intermediary as proof of his or her having revised the previous Bid.

In relation to electronic registration of Bids, the permission given by the Stock Exchanges to use their network and software of the electronic bidding system should not in any way be deemed or construed to mean that the compliance with various statutory and other requirements by our Company and/or the BRLM are cleared or approved by the Stock Exchanges; nor does it in any manner warrant, certify or endorse the correctness or completeness of compliance with the statutory and other requirements, nor does it take any responsibility for the financial or other soundness of our Company, the management or any scheme or project of our Company; nor does it in any manner warrant, certify or endorse the correctness or completeness of any of the contents of this Prospectus; nor does it warrant that the Equity Shares will be listed or will continue to be listed on the Stock Exchanges.

The revised Bids must be submitted to the same Designated Intermediary to whom the original Bid was submitted. If the total amount (i.e. the original Bid Amount plus additional payment) exceeds ₹ 200,000 with respect to RIBs, the Bid will be considered for allocation under the Non-Institutional Portion. If, however, the Retail Individual Bidder, as the case may be, does not either revise the Bid or make additional payment and the Issue Price is higher than the cap of the Price Band prior to revision, the number of Equity Shares Bid for shall be adjusted downwards for the purpose of allocation, such that no additional payment would be required from the Retail Individual Bidder and the Retail Individual Bidder is deemed to have approved such revised Bid at Cut-off Price.
